SERVANT GIRLS QUIT HOMES, REFUSING TO WORK WITH CHINESE

Vancouver Domestic Leave Following Janet Smith Murder, Says Member

Manitoba May Copy Mrs. Smith's Anti Oriental Legislation Now

While Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith's "Janet Smith Bill," forbidding the employment of Orientals in homes with Chinese, is attracting nation-wide attention and may be copied in other provinces, Vancouver housemaids are making a widespread exodus from homes where they are forced to work with Orientals.

Mrs. Smith made known to-day that she has in her possession now the names of twenty-eight girls who have quit their employment in fashionable Vancouver homes following the Janet Smith murder.

Simultaneously the Lady Member made public the contents of a letter from John T. Haig, Member of the Manitoba Legislature who announces his intention of introducing in the legislature of the prairie province a bill modeled on Mrs. Smith's new anti-Oriental measure. Mr. Haig has asked Mrs. Smith to send him a copy of her bill, together with any suggestions she has to offer. He intends to draft a measure on this foundation which will protect girls employed in Manitoba homes.

Mrs. Smith declared to-day that she had received numerous letters on the same subject indicating a widespread interest in her proposed legislation which came before the House on Thursday.

"I do not know whether it is a panic among them or not but I have heard of twenty-eight girls who have quit their jobs in Vancouver because they refused to work with Orientals," Mrs. Smith said. "This movement would seem to indicate that their employers prefer to keep the Chinese rather than the white girls. If such discrimination were pushed to extremes it would be serious for our own white women indeed."

CHURCH UNION IS EXPLAINED HERE

Rev. Dr. Pidgeon, of Winnipeg, Addresses Gathering at Metropolitan Church

Gives Interesting Sketch of Church Progress in History

"I believe that the disrupted church of God is going to come back to the unity from which it started, fortified and strengthened by the trials of her experience. I am satisfied to have some little part in bringing about the realization of that vision."

said Rev. Dr. Leslie Pidgeon, of Winnipeg, at a largely attended Church Union meeting held at the Metropolitan Church yesterday afternoon.

The gathering was attended by leading members of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches, and Rev. Dr. Sippell, pastor of the church, occupied the chair.

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson of First Presbyterian Church, assisted in the service.

In considering the question Dr. Pidgeon appealed for the staking of prejudice and respect for the opinion of others. He urged the audience to adopt the course of Rev. Dr. MacKay, formerly of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, and now in Winnipeg and a member of Dr. Pidgeon's church, who, while at heart opposed to union, had seen it as a great progressive factor in the work of the church in Canada.

Dr. MacKay, he stated, had abandoned his opposition when convinced that organic union of the three great bodies was inevitable.

Dr. Pidgeon devoted his address to the history of the differences and problems which had gradually drawn the followers of James Arminius and John Calvin apart, while now in more recent years the doctrines of regeneration and predestination had merged in a wider knowledge of God's grace, he observed.

REASONABLENESS OF MOVEMENT
Dr. Pidgeon said at the outset he did not wish to appear as a Solomon come to judgment, without appreciation of the point of view of those who differed from him. He desired to argue in favor of the reasonableness of church union. In order to appreciate the question it was necessary

EMPIRE COMMITTEE TO STUDY PRODUCE SELLING

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—The Canadian Government, along with the Governments of the other Dominions, has agreed to the formation of an Empire committee to deal with the marketing of Dominion produce. The personnel of the committee has not been decided on.

Objections taken by Canada at the last Imperial Conference to the formation of an Empire Economic Committee do not, it is stated, apply to the proposed committee on marketing. The objections were to the creation of a committee with a practically unlimited field. There was no objection to the formation of a committee which would consider some specific subject.

Dr. Chown Restates Methodist Truths

Toronto, Nov. 24.—"Let no one, under pain of slander, say the Methodist Church disbelieves the Bible, does not believe in the truth of the Bible, or does not teach the Bible," warned the Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, Sunday, when preaching in the newly-opened St. Clair Avenue Methodist Church here.

EX-OFFICER HEARD AT POLICE INQUIRY

Albert Carle Tells of Illegal Places and Salaries of Police Force Men

Montreal, Nov. 24.—That he had told Alderman Brodeur, chairman of the executive committee, that a disorderly house operated by Rosa Davidson was known as "the police house" and as the "police disorderly house" because it was patronized by members of the local police force, and that he had asked for investigation into the matter, were statements made this morning at the resumption of the Montreal police inquiry by ex-Captain Albert Carle, founder of the Montreal Police Union.

SALARIES OF MEN
Capt. Carle's testimony also dealt with the salaries paid to members of the force. He told Mr. Justice Coderre, with tears in his eyes, that just after the war some local policemen had had to deny themselves food in order that their families might have nourishment, while some common laborers were earning as much as $10 a day.

He stated that at the time of the formation of the union there had been an inspection which had shown some constables were wearing overcoats with the sleeves half-way up to their elbows.

There was no system for the administration of the force, he said. Some men were well treated; others were not. Some were shown favor, and others disfavored by their superiors. It was a matter of having relatives, said the witness.

In answer to a question, Capt. Carle affirmed Capt. Bourgeois had been made an inspector "by means of $2,500."

ONTARIO'S LONDON REPRESENTATIVE HERE; W. C. NOXON

AGENT-GENERAL OF ONTARIO IN CITY

Says Disgruntled Canadians Should Travel, Then They Would Appreciate Home

The news of the death of F. C. Wade, K.C., late Agent-General for British Columbia in London, came with a great shock to William C. Noxon, Agent-General for Ontario, who arrived this morning on the liner Empress of Canada.

Mr. Noxon is on a round the world tour, and will proceed to London, where he is located. With him traveled F. H. Leach, of Toronto, who will winter in Victoria with Mrs. Leach.

"No Canadian in London occupied so large a place in the world of that great city as Mr. Wade," Mr. Noxon stated. "There is no doubt his health was worse than had been reported in British Columbia, but he manfully continued to fulfill his engagements to the end."

Mr. Noxon said his Government was doing everything to encourage the movement of British to Ontario. That province, owing to its pure Anglo-Scottish origin, and its proximity to the British Isles would always command a large support, and it was a matter of congratulation that his province would concentrate on the immigration. After a tour in Oriental countries he would only say that Canadians who amused themselves running down their institutions and possibilities should travel abroad, and they would come back more satisfied and glad that their lot had been cast in more pleasant places than the majority of the world's inhabitants.

"Fiery Crosses" in Toronto Were Jokes

Toronto, Nov. 24.—The Ku Klux Klan scare which flared up in Toronto last night seems about to be disposed of through the exposure of practical jokes. Of the two "fiery crosses" which were set off in different parts of the city almost simultaneously, one at least has been found to be a school trick. The other has not been explained. Nine students of Trinity College are said to have been responsible for the flaming cross which was seen in the college grounds last night. The boys are said to have been staging a show for the diversion of girls in a neighboring college.

Police are investigating the burning of the other cross.

It is claimed it will revolutionize the automobile and aeroplane motor, and perhaps in some domains even the steam engine.

TIGHTEN UP RULES OF ADOPTION, MRS. SMITH URGES HOUSE

Regulations governing the adoption of children in British Columbia would be tightened up by legislation which will be introduced in the House here by Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith this week. Mrs. Smith's amendments to the Adoption Act will make it impossible for relatives of children to interfere with foster parents after their legal adoption, the lady member explained to-day. The new legislation will go into the House on Thursday.

QUEBEC INDIAN IN NEW YORK CHURCH

Wore Feathered Headdress in St. Mark's as He Hailed the Elements

New York, Nov. 24.—In defiance of Bishop Manning of the Protestant Episcopal Church of New York, dancing has been resumed at St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery. A ritual service was held yesterday with an American Indian in warpath regalia, singing and praying while the organ was played like a tom-tom.

Last March, after "ecumenical services" by barefoot girls and "aboriginal rites," Bishop Manning deprived the church of episcopal ministrations and St. Mark's discontinued its unique services.

A Quebec Indian, Os-Ke-Non-Ton, who has made a name for himself in local musical circles, took a prominent part in yesterday's ceremony. He stood at the lectern in feathered headdress and hailed the elements in the Iroquois tongue. Rev. Dr. Gahrie introduced him as a good, religious man, and, he thought, a Christian.

Big California Telescopes Increase World's Knowledge Of the Spiral Nebulae

Washington, Nov. 24.—Confirmation of the view that the spiral nebulae which appear in the heavens as whirling clouds are in reality distant stellar systems, or "island universes," has been obtained by Dr. Edwin Hubble of the Carnegie Institute's observatory at Mount Wilson, through investigations carried out with the observatory's powerful telescopes.

The number of spiral nebulae, the observatory officials have reported to the Institute, is very great, amounting to hundreds of thousands, and their apparent sizes range from small objects, almost starlike in character, to the great Nebula of Andromeda, which extends across an angle some three degrees in the heavens, about six times the diameter of the full moon.

PAMPHLET OF IBANEZ SENT TO SPANIARDS

Army of Volunteer Smugglers Engaged in Taking Copies Across Border

Paris, Nov. 24.—An army of volunteer smugglers is engaged in attempting to place copies of the pamphlet written by Vicente Blasco Ibanez in denunciation of King Alfonso and Premier Rivera across the Spanish frontier, the author said to-day.

The printing of the Spanish edition of the pamphlet—about 2,000,000 copies—was finished Saturday night. "I am particularly pleased," he said, "at the response which cubed extracts of my brochure have elicited from South America. You know, the South Americans are real republicans at heart. They would feel more kinship with Spain if she were republican. It would give them greater pride and pleasure upon coming here to Europe to find the mother country governed like their own."

"No Canadian in London occupied so large a place in the world of that great city as Mr. Wade," Mr. Noxon stated. "There is no doubt his health was worse than had been reported in British Columbia, but he manfully continued to fulfill his engagements to the end."

REV. DR. P. S. GRANT ILL IN NEW YORK

Physician Says Modernist Leader in Eastern U.S. is Nervous Wreck

New York, Nov. 24.—Specialists will be called to diagnose the condition of the Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant, Modernist leader and former pastor of the Church of the Ascension here, who is in a hospital.

While Dr. Grant himself declared anaemia to be his ailment, Dr. Frederick F. Peterson, neurologist, declared the former rector was "a nervous wreck" and his physical condition grave.

Dr. Grant is sixty-four years old. He resigned from his pastorate last June to seek health and rest near Bedford, N.Y. In 1915 Bishop Manning accused him of preaching "free love." In 1921 Dr. Grant, an advocate of easy divorce, announced his engagement to Mrs. Rita de Acosta Lydig. Bishop Manning promptly forbade the marriage because Mrs. Lydig was twice a divorcee. On May 26 of this year Mrs. Lydig announced the engagement had been broken off.

Bombay, India, Nov. 24.—"I am not a lunatic; I am a reasonable man. I am losing ground gradually and would have no hesitation in bending before the Svarajists and the Liberals. If necessary I shall bend before the Englishmen also, if only they show a change of heart."

This was a statement made in a speech delivered Sunday before the All-India Congress Committee by Mohandas Gandhi, the Non-co-operationist leader, in moving approval of a pact agreed upon between himself and C. R. Das and P. Nehru, two other Svarajist leaders, in favor of co-operation among all parties.

Chief of Staff of Canadian Army Returns From Japanese Manoeuvres

Had Splendid Reception at All Points; Presented With Sword

A most cordial reception was given in Japan to Major-General James H. MacBrien, Chief of Staff of the Canadian army, who returned from the recent manoeuvres in that country to-day on board the liner Empress of Canada. He was met here by Brigadier-General J. M. Ross, general officer commanding, and officers from Work Point Barracks.

"My visit to Japan," he stated, "was a most interesting and instructive one."

"The officials, military and civil, in all parts of the country I visited, were uniformly and wonderfully kind to me."

"Never before have I experienced such a cordial welcome, and such generous hospitality which took the form of numerous dinners, receptions and gifts. Upon leaving Japan, General MacBrien stated:

R. Das and P. Nehru, two other Svarajist leaders, in favor of co-operation among all parties.

Gandhi's speech was a recantation of some of his strongly-held views which hitherto had proved the main barrier between the orthodox politicians and the Svarajists.

The address of Gandhi was a long recital of his own woes and praise of the growing strength of the Svarajists.

eral Kawai, chief of the general staff, made me a present of a beautiful sword, said to be nearly 300 years old.

"During my visit I was received several times by the Prince Regent, and was fortunate in witnessing the Imperial Birthday review at Tokio, when 20,000 troops, including the Guards Division, took part.

AT GRAND MANOEUVRES

"The main object of my visit," the general continued, "was to attend the grand manoeuvres in which four divisions were employed. These manoeuvres were intensely interesting from a professional point of view, and also because they partake of the nature of a national fête. They were admirably planned, and conducted by the general staff. One of the outstanding features was the splendid co-operation between the military and civil authorities in the manoeuvre area.

"Though my visit was brief, yet I was able to see a great deal. I inspected various military educational institutions, such as the staff college, and the military academy. I found the air force and its work interesting, particularly as this branch of the service is receiving much attention all over the world at present.

AT FAMOUS SHRINES

"I was able to visit the historically famous localities of Nikko and Kyoto, and saw something also of the industries of the country.

"The area of the great earthquake resembled the devastated zone in France. The rapid progress made in reconstruction and the spirit of the people in bravely facing such enormous losses of life and property are worthy of the highest praise.

"The knowledge and experience gained will be of great value to me professionally, and I trust I shall be able to pass it on to the Canadian military forces.

STEWART TRIAL IN TORONTO NEARS END

Evidence is Given in Home Bank Case; Regarding Arranging of Loans

Toronto, Nov. 24.—With only one more crown witness to be heard in the trial of J. P. M. Stewart, who was a Home Bank director, it is probable the trial will be concluded tomorrow.

At the opening of the session tomorrow Judge Cowart will give his judgment in the case of C. A. Barnard, another former director, whose trial was completed a couple of weeks ago.

Major A. E. Nash of the firm of Clarkson, Dilworth and Gordon, accountants, cross-examined this morning by the defence, said there was no color in the statement he had prepared for the bank's affairs, and what he purported was a statement of bare facts without comment.

He admitted A. E. Calvert knew more about the Home Bank's affairs than any living man. Calvert, however, did not know the origin or reasons for some of the big loans. He also admitted that a layman going over the bank's books would find nothing wrong unless he were suspicious or on guard.

I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., defence counsel, read a list of sixty loans made by the bank, which were never discussed when the accused was present at the board meetings.

TRANSATLANTIC TESTS TAKING PLACE NIGHTLY THIS WEEK

Majority of Powerful American Stations Clear Way For European Broadcasting

This week will be one of the most important in radio history the International Radio Broadcast Tests taking place nightly from November 24 to 30 inclusive.

Every important broadcasting station in the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Canada, and Great Britain will be "on the air" during their allotted time in the test week.

Last year, the transatlantic test was primarily to find out whether or not the ordinary super-sensitive receiver could bring in the English broadcasts, if American transmitters on the same wavelengths were silent.

As a result of that co-operation it is an established fact that listeners on each side of the Atlantic can hear the other, given highly sensitive receivers and favorable conditions. But those conditions have to be supplied.

So, during an hour each evening of the tests, British Columbia listeners will be able to tune in on the foreign broadcasts unhampered by interference from United States stations. Listeners will have another opportunity to try their sets under conditions which could be found at no other time. After all, it is an experience for a listener in an isolated spot on Vancouver Island to hear a program direct from London.

That is just what happened in the tests last year. There were great numbers of successful listeners in every state in the Union, and all the provinces of Canada.

SPLENDID MATERIAL
Programme directors of all the stations have been hard at work endeavoring to secure the finest of talent for the test programmes. Last year such important men as Secretary of State Hughes of the United States, Henry Ford and Marconi himself spoke to transatlantic audiences.

American stations will open the test, beginning their transmissions at 10 o'clock Eastern time and continuing for one hour. Upon their closing down, the British will send. On the Pacific coast the North American stations will be heard at 7 o'clock nightly; and the European stations should commence to come in sharp at 8 o'clock.

The following table gives the call letters and wavelengths of the British stations taking part in the test, and it will be advisable for listeners in to prepare dial readings of logged American stations of comparable wave length, to facilitate tuning in. For instance, Paris, call PTT 450, compares with Winnipeg, CKY 450.

BIG TELESCOPES ADD TO KNOWLEDGE OF NEBULAE

ing necessary the use of these great telescopes. The revolving power of these instruments breaks up the outer portions of the nebulae into swarms of stars which may be studied individually and compared with those in our own system.

From an investigation of the photographs, thirty-six variable stars of the type referred to, known as Cepheid variables, were discovered in the two spirals, Andromeda and No. 33 of Messier's great Catalogue of Nebulae. The study of the periods of these stars and the application of the relationship between length period and intrinsic brightness at once provided the means of determining the distances of these objects.

STRIKING RESULTS
"The results are striking in their confirmation of the view that these spiral nebulae are distant stellar systems. They are found to be about ten times as far away as the small Magellanic cloud, or at a distance of the order of 1,000,000 light years. This means that light traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second has required 1,000,000 years to reach us from those nebulae, and that we are observing them by light which left them in the Flooded-Age upon the earth.

"With a knowledge of the distance of these nebulae, we find for their diameters 45,000 light years for the Andromeda Nebula, and 15,000 light years for Messier 33. These quantities as well as the masses, and densities of the systems are quite comparable with the corresponding values for our local system of stars."

ALLENBY REPLIED
Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, the British High Commissioner, promptly replied to the Egyptian note, which was signed by Zagioul Pasha, the Egyptian Premier. General Allenby said that in view of the refusal of the Egyptians of the British requirements numbers five and six, instructions were being sent to the Sudan Government to effect the withdrawal from the Sudan of Egyptian officers and units with the specified changes resulting from these measures and that the Sudan Government was at liberty to increase the area of irrigation in the Gezira district to an unlimited extent.

ACTION TAKEN
Lord Allenby's reply to Zagioul requested the payment of the indemnity of £500,000 by noon Monday, and added:

"Your Excellency will learn in due course what action is being taken in view of your refusal of requirement number seven, regarding the protection of foreign interests."

READ AT SESSION
Zagioul Pasha read his reply at an open session of Parliament yesterday, after which the House adopted a vote of confidence in the Government with only one dissenting voice. Parliament was charged with tense emotion when the Premier, before reading his reply, prefaced it with a statement in which he exhorted his

The forts were demolished, but no troops were sent ashore immediately and further rising and massacres followed. The next month a British military expedition was landed, however, and the British occupation of the whole country followed, the joint supervision which the French and British had for some years previous exercised over the Khedive being abolished.

APPEAL TO LEAGUE
The newspaper Alaham, supporting the Premier, strongly criticizes the British demands, and suggests Great Britain seized the opportunity presented by the assassination of the Sidar to carry out pre-conceived plans, ignoring Egypt's constitution and all laws and conventions.

The Alisalah, advocates an appeal to the League of Nations, declaring that although Egypt is not a member of the League, it is sufficient to demand the League's intervention regarding the Gezira irrigation project premature.

The communists further said the position of foreign officials was regulated by diplomatic agreement and could not be modified without the consent of Parliament.

ELECTRIC INSTALLATION

Special to The Times
Duncan, Nov. 22.—If the Duncan and Ladysmith Councils approve the proposition of John Humbird, manager of the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company, Chemainus, these two cities may then purchase electrical current in bulk from that company. Duncan would have to build twelve miles of transmission line and Ladysmith seven miles. The current would be generated by steam turbines, fuel for which could be supplied by the waste material from the new Chemainus mill. The proposition will be considered by both councils at meetings to be held next week.

DANCE IS ARRANGED

Special to The Times
Metehosin, Nov. 24.—A dance has been arranged by the East Sooke Farmers' Institute to be held in the Metehosin Hall to-morrow night, commencing at 9 p.m. C. Hunt's orchestra has been engaged to play for dancing, and several novelty dances have been arranged, including Old Country dances and two surprise dances; there will also be a wheel drive in the ante-room for those who do not care to dance, for which prizes will be given. Contributions from the ladies of the district towards the supper will be gratefully received. Lady Emily Walker is the convenor of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Five or six men were recently chatting in a village inn, when one of them said:

"I say, I bet ye dinners all round ye can't tell me the answer to a puzzle I know of."

"Done," said they. "I bet we can. What is it?"

"Well," said Pat, "why is a journalist the funniest creature in the world?"

After vainly trying for about two hours, they sadly said they must give it up.

Growth of Western Region of Country Helps East, Says Premier King

Ottawa Women's Liberal Club is Told of Prime Minister's Tour

Montreal, Nov. 24.—Optimism regarding the future of Canada, the need of co-operation between East and West, inasmuch as the prosperity of one section of the country meant the prosperity of the other, the paramount necessity of Canadians understanding their country as a whole and prediction of a glowing future for the Canadian ports of the Pacific coast, were the outstanding features of an address delivered by Premier King before the members of the Ottawa Women's Liberal Club on Saturday.

The Prime Minister reviewed his recent long tour in Western Canada and declared it had been undertaken so the Government might have a better understanding of Western problems and at the same time present to the West the problems for which Eastern Canada was seeking a solution.

UNITY IS DESIRED.
During his tour, the Premier declared, he had sought to preach that irrespective of what section of the country was affected, the Government wished for unity of the country in all its policies and endeavored to bring about goodwill so there would not be East and West, French and English, speaking sections, Catholics and Protestants, but Canadians first and last. He had also brought the matter of inter-empire and international problems to the attention of the people of the West.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES.
"I think," he said, "we have come to a time when this Dominion can not understand too clearly its rights, its responsibilities and duties within the British Empire, and in relation to the various foreign countries of the world, and we made a particular point to take up questions of inter-empire concern which have been under discussion during the past few years."

GROWTH OF THE COAST.
The Prime Minister said he had been inspired by the progress in Vancouver, the tremendous development of the city, and its future as a world port. Vancouver was undergoing a great development, and he said it was not far distant future it would outrival the great United States ports on the Pacific Coast. The East should not feel concerned about this, he said, for Trade begets trade and if the West develops it will help the East, just as the prosperity of the East is reflected in the growth and prosperity of the West.

The Premier talked of his voyage from Prince Rupert to Comox on one of Canada's destroyers, and said it was splendid to see the admirable way in which young Canadians were seizing the opportunity to take part in that branch of the national defence.

DECLARES VEREGIN'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL.
Nephew of Late Doukhobor Leader Does Not Believe Bomb Set Off in Train

Nelson, Nov. 24.—After careful consideration regarding the Paran tragedy, writes L. W. Veregin, secretary-treasurer of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, in a letter published in the Nelson Daily News, "I have come to the conclusion that the accident arose out of gas in the car or else somebody's carrying high explosives which were not intended for Peter Veregin."

"My reason for such a statement is logical and very simple, because the late worthy gentleman had been riding in a buggy for twenty miles in the woods quite frequently with a boy as a teamster. He also walked many miles alone, and if someone had wished harm to Mr. Veregin, he could have overtaken him easily. "In any event I could not make myself believe this affair has been done by any Doukhobor as long as I live."

The letter writer is a nephew of the late leader, who was killed October 23 when a C.P.R. coach was destroyed by an explosion.

TWO KU KLUX KLAN EVENTS IN TORONTO.
Crosses Were Burned on Trinity College Grounds And in N. Toronto

Toronto, Nov. 24.—In the burning of a "fiery cross" by white-robed figures in the northern section of Trinity College grounds here and a simultaneous burning in North Toronto last night, Toronto experienced its first contact with the Ku Klux Klan.

Eyewitnesses reported that about 8:30 p.m. either eight or nine white-robed figures appeared on the college grounds, carrying a wooden cross about six feet long. After lighting the cross the figures went through a ceremony that lasted ten minutes and then disappeared across the university grounds.

Police patrolled the grounds for the rest of the evening.

The cross burned in the northern part of the city was much larger, being eight or ten feet in height. Trinity is one of the colleges comprising the University of Toronto.

REVOLVER CHARGE.
Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 24.—A. C. Montell, self-acknowledged leader of a Ku Klux Klan order, appeared in police court here Saturday and was again remanded for sentence for two weeks on a charge of carrying a revolver. He will be at liberty during that period.

UNEMPLOYED ASK FOR WORK OR KEEP.
350 Parade in Winnipeg; City and Provincial Officials Consider Situation

Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—Urging "work or money" as a condition of subsistence, a force of 350 unemployed men paraded to the City Hall and Parliament Buildings here Saturday and their committee interviewed city and provincial government officials. No promises were made, but officials stated the "situation was under advisement."

The group, which was also joined by the Lieut.-Governor, Sir James Aikins, was not at home.

TARIFF BILL IN FRENCH CHAMBER.
Schedules Being Revised Upward; Little Effect on Canadian Trade

Paris, Nov. 24.—Minister of Commerce Raynaldy's bill revising the customs tariff is before the Chamber of Deputies. It deals with more than 250 articles, or more than half the tariff schedule.

CANADA'S POSITION.
Ottawa, Nov. 24.—It is not anticipated here that the proposed revision of the French tariff will have a very marked effect on Canadian trade. Under the French-Canadian Convention, Canada receives the minimum rate provided for in the French tariff on a large number of articles enumerated in schedule A of the pact. The list comprises 125 tariff items and fourteen chemical products which come under the French general tariff, the treaty provides Canada shall receive as favorable treatment as the United States.

Melbourne Paper Says Suez Canal Must be Guarded.
Melbourne, Nov. 24 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The Melbourne Age, commenting on the Egyptian situation resulting from the assassination of the Sirdar of the Egyptian army, Major-General Sir Lee Stack, says the Baldwin Government can be depended upon to act firmly and protect British life and property. The protection of the Suez Canal, it declares, is vital to the well-being of Australia and the great Empire highway can not be made subject to an unfriendly power. The Angus remarks that the Baldwin Ministry is gradually clearing the ground so heavily encumbered by Ramsay MacDonald's vague internationalism, "and that its decision to jettison the monstrous treaty of the Bolsheviks" was the only course which a self-respecting government could take.

CONFERENCE MEANS EMPIRE PROGRESS.
London, Nov. 24.—The Sunday Times seen in the conference of Premier Baldwin with the High Commissioners of the Dominions a promise for the future handling of inter-empire affairs. It says the conference sets an important precedent and hopes it may be interpreted as a determination to pursue a policy of closer co-operation between Great Britain and the Dominions in all subjects affecting their common interest. "Such a policy," it said, "is imperative if we are to build up the future of our commonwealth of nations on a sound and permanent basis," concluded The Times.

URGENT CONTROL OF NARCOTIC TRAFFIC

Hon. H. S. Beland Spoke For Canada at International Conference in Geneva

Ottawa, Nov. 24 (By Canadian Press).—Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Health, strongly urged the control by every nation of the manufacture, distribution, importation and exportation of narcotic drugs in speaking at the Opium Conference in Geneva on Saturday, according to a message received by the Canadian Press here by radio from Dr. J. A. Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health, who is also in Geneva.

The complete control of the narcotic drug trade by the governments of all countries would be the only solution of the drug problem, Dr. Beland told the conference.

In his stand on the narcotic drug problem the Minister of Health placed Canada and the United States in accord. The policy of Great Britain was practically similar, there being certain reservations respecting some features of the narcotic trade in some parts of the Empire.

Dr. Beland's attitude, it is understood here, was carefully formulated as the stand adopted by Canada before the Minister left to attend the conference at Geneva. This is the second time Dr. Beland has spoken before the conference.

PRAIRIE GIRLS WON A TRIP TO TORONTO.
High School Farmer Lasses of Manitoba Earned C.P.R. Hog-raising Prize

Toronto, Nov. 24.—Not only did young Lochinvar come out of the West, but also two very bright high school girls from Kenosha, Manitoba, who are visiting the Royal Winter Fair this week as winners of the Boys' and Girls' Club Hog-raising Challenge Cup and trip offered by the Agricultural Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The young farmerettes, accompanied by Mrs. G. H. Williams of the Canadian Pacific Railway Agricultural Department, have shown marked ability in judging live animals and dressed meat, and if their industry is typical of Western farmerettes pride in Western Canada is justified.

As the championship team in their club they were largely responsible for the finest shipment of hogs to the Winnipeg stockyards, the shipment grading seventy-one per cent. select.

In Toronto they astonished the Winter fair management by selecting a majority of the winning animals before the blue ribbons were distributed, and in one of the large packing houses they graded dressed meat like experienced employees. They are enthusiastic about their work and their daily routine would surprise many of their Eastern sisters.

DRIVE TO SCHOOL.
Miss Mamie McCormack and Miss Grace Ewen are high school girls, who rise early enough to prepare breakfast for their families, drive ten miles to school with the school children in their section, fulfil their high school duties, prepare the evening meals and milk the cows, make their own clothes, study music, and in their spare time raise champion hogs.

The girls wanted a chance to see the East, and thought the hog raising contest of the Canadian Pacific Railway a good means to gratify their wishes. They were successful and, contrary to popular theory, are not attracted by the bright lights. They are at present under the supervision of J. McCormack, Mamie's uncle, at Arthur, Ontario, comparing methods and generally obtaining a practical education that will no doubt have an effect when they return home tomorrow.

They are also proud possessors of two silver medals which accompany the presentation of the "Canadian Pacific Railway challenge cup," and are determined the cup next year will remain where it is.

Albert Jones and Peter Wylie of Vegreville, Alberta, and Everett Lunan and Raymond Neefs, from Saskatchewan, winners in their respective provinces, are also visitors at the fair.

HIGHER STANDARD.
While this is the first year the Canadian Pacific Railway has offered a challenge cup in the prairie provinces, the success of the plan and enthusiasm among the boys' and girls' clubs in all parts of the West has been so marked that a higher standard in farm animals is sure to result. Rising young farmerettes and farmerettes are busily engaged in figuring ways and means of putting their clubs in the limelight, and incidentally winning the cup and a free trip to Canada's greatest Winter Fair.

J. Dowler Died in Capital of Manitoba.
Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—James Dowler, eighty, a former resident of Toronto and Brantford, Ont., died at home here Saturday night. He came to Winnipeg in 1882, and for many years was prominent in the wholesale shoe trade in Western Canada. He entered Vancouver on the first C.P.R. train.

MINERS ARE ASKING INCREASE IN WAGES.
Sydney, N.S., Nov. 24.—Twenty-five per cent. increase for dental men, a ten per cent. increase for contract workers, a ten per cent. increase for all miners working on night shifts or two shifted places and a fifteen per cent. increase for all three-shifted places are the demands formulated in the wage policy drawn up by the convention of District 26 of the United Mine Workers of America. The convention on Friday was of the opinion that double shifts and triple shifts should be done away with and the only way to bring this about was to force up the operating Halifax, Nov. 24.—Lewis Bevis, on trial for the second time on a charge of murdering Police Officer Charles Bevis, was found guilty late Saturday afternoon. The jury recommended mercy. At his first trial the jury disagreed. Bevis heard the verdict unmoved and coolly lit a cigarette as he left the prisoner's dock for the cells. He will be sentenced this week.

CONFERENCE MEANS EMPIRE PROGRESS.
London, Nov. 24.—The Sunday Times seen in the conference of Premier Baldwin with the High Commissioners of the Dominions a promise for the future handling of inter-empire affairs. It says the conference sets an important precedent and hopes it may be interpreted as a determination to pursue a policy of closer co-operation between Great Britain and the Dominions in all subjects affecting their common interest. "Such a policy," it said, "is imperative if we are to build up the future of our commonwealth of nations on a sound and permanent basis," concluded The Times.

THE RIGHT WAY

TO SELECT IMMIGRANTS who will come to Canada next Spring six thoroughly experienced field supervisors have been sent by the Department of Immigration to the Old Country. It will be the duty of these officials to examine prospective settlers as to their all-round ability and their particular suitability for life in the Canadian West. Those who measure up to the necessary requirements will be assisted by the Imperial Government and the authorities at Ottawa will extend their facilities for the purchase of land and implements on easy terms. They will also be able to call on a veritable army of experts for such advice as they will need while they are getting used to new surroundings and the ways of the country.

This is obviously an excellent plan and a large measure of success should be obtained from its operation. It is hardly to be supposed that it will please Mr. Meighen; he asked his Vancouver audience recently if it was statesmanship "to spend millions to cajole people to come here from Europe when we are not able to provide employment for the people born within our own gates." Which suggests to The Manitoba Free Press that "Mr. Meighen must have run out of ammunition at about that point in his speech, for he knows that the only class of people whom the Government is trying to induce to come to Canada is the land settler, and he must know that the more settlers and the more primary production we have, the more activity and employment there will be in the cities. If the Conservative leader had criticized the Government for not having appointed a new Minister of Immigration and Colonization to give his whole time to this work and bring about a more concentrated effort to get land settlers, he would have been more to the point."

No immigration policy will be faultless. No matter what amount of care is taken some will reach these shores who are no more fit for Canadian life than they would be for the African jungle. The scheme about to be put in operation, however, should reduce the percentage of misfits and result in obtaining a still more efficient type of settler.

FAR FETCHED YARNS

NOBODY WILL BE taken in by the Moderation League's suggestion that sale of beer by the glass will go far to eliminate the evils attendant upon secret drinking. Nobody will swallow the idea that the open distribution of the malt beverage will breed a taste for its more wholesome properties as opposed to the spirituous liquors.

We have yet to be convinced, and the majority of the people no doubt require some proof, that even in those localities where there was a small majority in favor of the beer plan, a demand has been made upon the Government to take action and issue licenses. Public sentiment seems to be as dead in this respect as it was towards the original proposal of submitting the plebiscite.

When the Moderation League infers that beer sales in public places would make for true temperance it merely draws the long bow and fools nobody. The only people the system would benefit would be those who manufacture the commodity for sale. There is no urgent necessity for the Government to increase its revenue from this source.

THE CIVIL SERVANT

NOW THAT THE BRITISH Empire Exhibition is closed for this year, and Canada's participation in it already rated as the most impressive and profitable piece of advertising which this country has ever done, The Ottawa Citizen very properly reminds all Canadians that while the civil service as a whole is rendering efficient work in all its branches, it considers a special reference to the Canadian Government Exhibition Commission, Mr. A. W. Tolmie, to be in order and fitting at this stage.

The Citizen says such reference "gives the public assurance that the management of the Canadian investment in the British Empire Exhibition is in capable hands," and goes on to remind the people of this country that the harmonious relations which marked all dealings between the British administrative staff and the overseas Commissioners, contributing so largely to the success of the great fair, "can be said of the outstanding success of the Canadian Pavilion itself." In this connection "the staff worked together splendidly, without friction, and with every confidence in Mr. Tolmie at the head of the Canadian organization."

Our contemporary refers to the complimentary dinner which was given in honor of the Canadian Exhibition Commissioner during the closing week and says "men of eminence in the British Commonwealth paid tribute to Mr. Tolmie's work. At the same time, this appreciation of the man at the head of the Canadian Pavilion, and of those associated with him, indicated the high regard for Canada in the minds of the British people. In paying tribute to a Canadian civil servant, the British spokesmen desired to honor Canada. They honored the man who had done much to bring credit to Canada."

The Citizen in no manner exaggerates either the efficiency which has marked Mr. Tolmie's work at Wembley or the impression which it must have made upon the minds of the millions who toured the Canadian Pavilion. It would be a thousand pities if the scheme for reopening the Exhibition next year should fall down. For less than $200,000 this country could run its building and develop still further the business which has come and will continue to come to Canada as a result of this realistic advertisement.

DOMINION PRODUCTS

MARKETING DOMINION produce will be discussed by an Imperial Committee on which Canada will co-operate with the other members of the British family. This body will differ from the Imperial Economic Committee proposed at the last Imperial Conference and objected to by Canada because of the practically unlimited field in which it was intended to operate. Now that there is a specific subject to consider, however, the authorities at Ottawa see no reason why this country should not be represented and take part in the discussion.

An organization such as that which is now proposed should be able to promote a better understanding of Empire produce and devise ways and means of interesting consumers in British goods without throwing the subject into the political melting pot. We take it that the whole of the machinery of distribution will be reviewed in its particular relation to all articles produced within the Empire where there is even the remotest possibility of such articles competing with foreign goods. In this way it ought to be possible to improve on present methods of marketing and so increase the popularity of Empire products.

The British public, which does its shopping on economic and seldom on sentimental lines, has learned something from the British Empire Exhibition; but if that advertisement is to be a real investment as far as inter-Empire trading is concerned, it will have to be followed up by a good deal of work such as that which is presumed the Committee which is about to be formed will undertake. In that case an efficient marketing organization should be a continuous working advertisement.

It is a healthy sign in municipal affairs for nearly thirty candidates to enter the field.

Thirty per cent. of Canada's loans to former Allies will be repaid by the end of 1924. Great Britain would no doubt like to be in the same position.

British Columbia's politicians ought to be thankful for the existence of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway; it has been a fruitful source of debating material and a producer of many kinds of imaginations.

If the Egyptian Government is wise it will not trifle with the demands which Britain has made. Zagloul Pasha's public utterances on his return from London played no small part in fanning the flame of unrest which has been smouldering for some time past.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Here is the best of lessons—repeated yourself.

He will always see the most beautiful whose affections are warm and most exercised, whose imagination is the most powerful, and who has most accustomed himself to attend to the objects by which he is surrounded.

The blessings of fortune are the lowest, the next the bodily advantages of strength and health, but the superlative blessings, in fine, are those of the mind.

A kind imagination makes a bold man have vigor and enterprise in his air and motion; it stamps value upon his face.

No man writes a book without meaning something, though he may not have the faculty of expressing his meaning clearly and beautifully.

Form the judgment about the worth of empires of things here, according as they are or are not of use in relation to what is to come hereafter.

We ought to attempt no more than what is in the compass of our genius, and according to our vein.

Art is the child of nature. Pain is no evil unless it conquers us.

Who speaks the truth stabs falsehood to the heart. And his mere word makes despots tremble more. Than ever Brutus with his dagger could.

True glory takes root and even spreads; false pretences, like flowers, fall to the ground, nor can any counterfeit last long.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24

JOHN KNOX
 Eminent Scottish reformer and writer, died on November 24, 1572. While serving as a tutor he came under the influence of George Wishart, who was later burned as a heretic. Afterwards Knox was urged to become a preacher, and accepted a "call," but was forced to flee the country upon the accession of "Bloody Mary" to the throne. Until her death he spent much of his time at Geneva, Switzerland, after which he devoted himself to the organization of the Presbyterian Church in Scotland.

LAURENCE STERNE
 Celebrated English novelist and humorist, was born on November 24, 1713. Following his graduation from Cambridge, he took orders, and later became prebendary of the cathedral at York. He is best known as the author of "Tristram Shandy" and "A Sentimental Journey through France and Italy."

FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT
 Anglo-American novelist, was born on November 24, 1849. Among her works are "Little Lord Fauntleroy," with which she first achieved fame. "That Lass o' Lowrie's," "The Dawn of a To-morrow," and "The Secret Garden." She was married twice; first to Dr. L. M. Burnett, whom she divorced, and to Stephen Townsend, who died ten years ago.

OWEN MEREDITH
 (Edward Robert Bulwer-Lytton, first Earl of Lytton), English poet and diplomatist, son of the novelist known as Bulwer-Lytton, died on November 24, 1891. His works include "Lutetia," "Julian Fane," and "The Wanderer." He served as minister to Portugal, governor-general of India, and ambassador to France.

QUALITY COUNTS

The Canadian National Railways should be able to get along with no larger board. What counts is the number but the calibre of a company's directors.

RADIO INTERFERENCE

To the Editor:—In a recent issue you gave editorial weight to the importance of Radio Interference, referring more particularly to those green-guys who will reach out beyond their limit, and must always tune out before "tuning in." You did not, unfortunately, mention that arch offender—the Jumbos of Gonsales Hill, who always has an S.O.S. call to answer just when an important programme is commencing, or a special announcement is being made.

It would be an easy matter to convince anyone familiar with Morse signals that a good deal of this nuisance might be avoided during the few radio hours of the evening. Then as to the time signal—could anything be devised which produced such a maximum of annoyance as this does combined as it is with an entire lack of any distinctively arresting character. Surely we are a long suffering people—will somebody wake up?

RE IMPORTED POULTRY

To the Editor: Mr. John Day's letter re the above is a little misleading. Vancouver never had a real poultry supply of its own demand for poultry. Every year the whole of the poultry in Victoria bring in several carloads of dressed poultry to supply the local demand. The fact of the fact that P. Burns & Co. are buyers of local poultry the year round, and handle all shipments that are offered at prices that are favorable with those offered on the Mainland. As a business proposition it would surely be foolish and unprofitable to import poultry if the local supply could equal the consumption.

It may not be well known that the last year or two Vancouver Island has not only been able to supply its own demand for eggs, but has been able to export several carloads to the Mainland, whereas until comparatively recently large quantities were imported from the Prairies and even Ontario. Possibly the time may come soon when Vancouver Island will be exporting poultry, but this time is not yet. I am an employee of P. Burns & Co., but am writing this without their knowledge or consent.

A. R. DAVIDSON.

THE OLIVE BRANCH

To the Editor:—In the debate before the Private Bills Committee on Friday last the question of losing identity was very much in evidence. A battalion does not by any means lose its identity when a regiment is formed. The United Church of Canada is a regiment, the various churches are the battalions. The Christian Church is engaged in great warfare. All Presbyterians know what we pray for in the second petition which is, "Thy Kingdom come." We pray that Satan's kingdom may be destroyed, etc. I am afraid Satan has little to fear for his Kingdom so long as his opponents are divided. We might make some impression if united but not otherwise.

The Moderator of the General Assembly will be in Victoria on November 28. Due notice will be given of the meetings to be addressed by him. The Moderator, Dr. McKinnon, is a man of great ability and has captured the General Assembly in Owen Sound in June last by his beautiful Christian spirit and his eloquence as that of the Prince of Wales. Presbyterians make no mistake in going with Dr. McKinnon and others like him into the United Church of Canada.

D. FRASER,
 Sec. Union Committee, St. Paul's Church, Victoria, Wash.

REPLY TO MR. DAY

To the Editor:—In answer to Mr. John Day's letter, which appeared in your Saturday's issue, I would say that during the past few years we have worked up a large poultry business, and have employed a considerable number of men in the killing process. We have even made shipments to Honolulu and other places in the States. This fall we were forced, owing to the live poultry ceasing to come in, to bring a car of live poultry from the prairie. The cost of shipping this here is nearly five cents per pound, live weight, which includes freight, shrinkage, etc. This will not in any way interfere with the price we are paying for small amounts of poultry which is coming in to Victoria from local producers at the present time, as we are paying even higher prices to-day than we were last week. It means, however, that instead of having to discharge the men we had working during the Summer that we are able to keep them on and also employ extra help. We distinctly wish the poultry raisers to know that there will be no reduction in the paying price of poultry owing to the car of live poultry coming in. This will be easily proved by their bringing poultry to us and comparing the price they will receive to what they got before.

If we did not keep our export trade going with fresh killed poultry it would mean the loss of business not small amount. We would have lost our connection and it would mean a lower price to the poultry raisers.

CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER:
JOHN DAY

In allowing my name to be submitted to the electors of Victoria at the request of a number of citizens it was with a very different feeling and more consideration than when I had previously done this for alderman, said John Day, candidate for police commissioner, to-day.

"To me the position of police commissioner is the most honored one to be given by the public.

In a young country there are many conditions to be met, not met in the older countries. The morals of a city, its freedom from crime, the protection of the child life, and above all, the annihilation of the terrible octopus of the drug traffic and other problems which require more thought and consideration on the part of a man elected to this position of responsibility. Laws are indeed not so much for punishment as for education. The police are looked upon often with suspicion and disrespect, and yet I believe they seldom receive the thanks of the public who really owe them more than they receive credit for.

"If this is not so, then the fault lies with the present system of police commissioners.

"This position cannot be used to suit the whim or wishes of any one section it is dealing with. Those that make me mayor and the principle of justice to all should be the efforts of a police commissioner. I make no promises, because I do not know the inner workings, but I can see the effects.

AMERICAN RUGBY

Seattle, Nov. 24.—A 14 to 6 victory here on Saturday over Washington State College gave the University of Washington the unofficial inter-collegiate football championship for 1924. The contest was watched by 10,000 persons.

ALDERMAN CHRISTIE RESIGNS OFFICE

First Vacancy For One-year Term in Personnel of Council

Five Candidates Are Now in Field For Office of School Trustee

Alderman Christie, a candidate for the mayoralty, has handed in his resignation as an alderman, in view of the fact that he has one year more to serve. In his letter Mr. Christie asks for its acceptance on December 1, thereby permitting the polling to take place on December 11 at the same time as the general election. The nomination date, however, will be different, probably December 8.

Three new candidates are announced for the school board, Mrs. W. H. P. Sweeney, William C. Morison and A. C. Pike. Mr. Morison was an alderman in the 1911 council, while Mr. Pike is at the present time a library commissioner.

THE ART OF MISCHA ELMAN

The late James Huneker, in his volume of criticism and comment, "Uncle Sam," with its inimitable raciness of style and bewildering glitter of erudition, devotes a chapter to "Violinists Now and Yesterday." Considering the fact that this ubiquitous critic had personally heard such violinistic giants of yesterday as Viennese, Wieniawski, Wilhelm and Joachim, and that he had listened to a host of virtuosos of this generation, his praise of and high regard for the playing of Mischa Elman is all the more noteworthy and significant.

Of the young Russian genius he says: "United to an amazing technical precision there is a still more amazing emotional temperament all dominated by a powerful musical and mental intellect that is uncanny. In the romantic or the virtuosic realm he is a past master. His tone is lavishly in its warmth. He paints with many colors. He displays numberless nuances of feeling. Naturally the pride of his youth asserts itself, and often, self-intoxicated, he intoxicates his audiences with his sinuous, compelling tone. Hebratic, tragic, melancholy, the boisterousness of the Russian, the swift modulation from mad caprice to Slavic despair—Elman is a magician of many moods."

Mr. Elman will be heard here in recital on Tuesday, December 2, at the Royal Victoria, and judging from the numerous mail orders sent in this celebrated Violinist will again receive a big reception here.

WHY SOME PEOPLE ARE "FRIGHTENED TO DEATH"

YOUR nervous system is the vital force of your body; the force that gives energy to every organ and every muscle. So great is the power of the nerves that a tremendous shock, such as fear, may cause death.

A lesser nerve shock will blanch the cheeks, make the knees tremble, cause the heart to beat wildly or almost paralyze breathing.

To sustain our vitality we must nourish the nervous system. When we restore lost nerve power we find ourselves filled with new strength.

Nervous, exhausted men and women can quickly regain their nerve power. As they rebuild their nerves they soon see the signs of returning vitality.

for the light heavyweight championship of America.

Gibbons, a day before the fight with Georges Carpentier, at Michigan City last summer, told interviewers Tunney was ducking him.

"Why should Tunney go around kidding the folks that he is ready to battle Jack Dempsey? Why doesn't he stay in his class, he's a light heavyweight. So am I, though I am forced to go out of my division to get a fight with Tunney but he will have none of my games."

When this interview was called to Tunney's attention, the light heavyweight champion said it was untrue and that he was ready to take on Gibbons any time on interesting proposition was presented.

BACKS UP GIBBONS
 Now Tex Rickard comes out with a statement backing up Gibbons.

"I have tried to match Gibbons with Tunney but he refuses the match," says the New York promoter. "I think Gibbons and Tunney would up a worthwhile fight. Gibbons is willing and has been for months. Tunney, however, does not seem to want to take a chance with his title against the St. Paul man."

UNIVERSITY MEN HONORED DR. VOGT

Dean of Toronto Conservatory Foresees Bright Musical Future For Canada

On Saturday the Victoria University Women's Club tendered a luncheon at the Hudson's Bay private dining-room to Dr. A. B. Vogt, principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music and dean of music in Toronto University. Dr. Vogt in the course of a splendid address, said a new era of music had set in everywhere, particularly emphasizing the brilliancy attained by a group of Great Britain's composers; the devotion to the art by America and the Continent, are now associated with the music affairs of Canada and are giving their very best to the development of the finest of all arts, to music. He was particularly impressed with the artistic atmosphere in the progress of piano-forte art in all places, and the high attainments of its teachers. Choral work, too, he said, is on a very high plane in Canada and in no single instance has he been ashamed to say these singers are the best he has heard of our land. He saw a great future for music. During the last year or two he was pleased to note that the schools of Canada were now organizing violin classes, which no doubt will form the nucleus of the future orchestras throughout the country. A big object lesson was the fact that the famous symphony orchestras of New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, Boston and elsewhere were of such high standard, and he said, had no equal anywhere on the globe. Thus are the American people brought into contact with the very best of music. He saw the time when Canada, which after all is only a new country, would have similar organizations, and he asked that now, to-morrow and at any future time, all music lovers would support everything that brings good music to Canada's doors. Dr. Vogt, in conclusion, complimented both Vancouver and Victoria in having so many high-class and efficient teachers in their midst.

During the afternoon the quartette from the newly organized Victoria Conservatory of Music, Drury Pryce, first violin; Vernon Smith, second violin; Miss Justine Gilbert, violin; and Harold Taylor violoncello, gave a capital rendering of a "Scherzo" by

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin taking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. (Adv.)

MRS. SWEENEY TO BE CIVIC CANDIDATE

Well-known Artist Enters Contest For School Board

Women's organizations of the city which have been trying to enlist a woman recruit in the ranks of the aspirants for municipal honors will be interested to learn that their sex is to be represented in the forthcoming fight. Mrs. W. H. P. Sweeney, widow of the late member of the printing firm of Sweeney & McConnell, this morning announced her candidature for the Board of School Trustees.

As the mother of a young family, Mrs. Sweeney is deeply interested in educational problems and her decision to enter the lists was prompted by her desire to see the inclusion of the mother's viewpoint in the deliberations of this body. In addition to the domestic viewpoints Mrs. Sweeney possesses wider outlook acquired by the closer contact with the world of business and community affairs. For some years past she has been a partner in the Decca Art Studios and has found a big demand for the many charming products of her facile brush and tools, for she is an artist and sculptor of unusual attainments. Since the inception of the Kumukus Club, Mrs. Sweeney has been one of its most active members and is also included in the personnel of the executive.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 25

This will probably be a day of important events, according to the incoming planetary configurations. There is a promise of a radical change, removal or journey, and these should be the result of a bold spirit of aggression or initiative, and should result in benefit, but there is some danger of subtle undoing, fraud or treachery, especially as relates to new projects. And also there may be some obstacle or disappointment. However, carefully handled and with the finances cautiously manipulated, affairs should thrive. Avoid worry. Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of an important and stirring year. There is promise of a sudden and unplanned change, removal and journey, which should bring benefits if care be taken in handling money and if fraud and subtle attack be avoided. Guard against loss and do not worry. A child born on this day will be active, resourceful, original and inventive, fond of change and travel, but its success may be jeopardized by treachery or by its own inclination to spend its substance for pleasure.

Alliance Française.—Mr. Armand, an official lecturer of the Alliance Française, who has given previous addresses in this city, will give a lecture in French under the auspices of the local branch at the Victoria College on Saturday next at 8.30 o'clock.

Cloverdale School "At Home"—Under the auspices of the Cloverdale School "At Home" was held in the Cloverdale School on Friday evening. A large number of parents were present as well as the school staff. All proceedings were informal. Trustee Mr. Beckett addressed the meeting asking all present to take an interest in school affairs. Miss Alice Carlson played a violin solo accompanied by Miss Alice McPherson. Miss Marion Head contributed a pianoforte solo. The three cups won by the school pupils were on display and the singing of the National Anthem brought a very enjoyable meeting to an end.

Friendly Help Grateful

The Friendly Help Society wishes to express its sincere thanks for a generous donation of $137.37, representing the proceeds of the organ recital on Saturday, and to cordially thank Mr. Courbin and Mr. Gideon Hicks for their services. Mr. Edward Pearson, for arranging the programme, the officers of the Metropolitan Methodist Church for allowing the use of the organ and edifice, and The Colonist for its gift of 2,000 handbills.

On Saturday evening at "Breadalbane" the minister's residence a pretty wedding took place in the presence of an assembly of friends of the principals. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," wearing a beautiful French model gown of peach and rose, beaded in tulle effect, with a becoming bandeau in place of the conventional veil. LATE MRS. HARDING LIVED BUSY LIFE

Was For Fourteen Years in Charge of Circulation of Marion Paper

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Warren Harding were held at Marion, Ohio, to-day, where he remains were laid beside those of the late President.

FIRST MARRIAGE
The late Florence Kling Harding was born in Marion on August 15, 1860. On her father's side, her ancestry was sturdy "Pennsylvania Dutch," while her mother, Louisa M. Bouton, was of French descent.

By reason of her father's determination to train her thoroughly in the details of his business, she was his constant companion as a girl. She worked in his bank, and drove about the country with him when he went to various farms he owned, or on business connected with the bank.

She early became an ardent horse-woman. She kept her love for horses all her life. She reluctantly took to the automobile in later years.

Late in the seventies, Florence Kling met Henry De Wolfe, whom she married in Marion. Soon after the birth of her only son, Marshal Eugene De Wolfe, in Prospect, Ohio, in 1880, she obtained a divorce. Her divorced husband died some time prior to her marriage with Warren Harding.

Her son, Marshal Eugene De Wolfe, died in 1915, in Denver, Colo., leaving to survive him two children and his wife, who subsequently remarried.

MET AT A DANCE
Florence Kling first met Warren Harding at a dance in the eighties. Despite the strenuous objections of her father, Mr. Harding began an ardent courtship. Kling told his daughter that the struggling young publisher of The Marion Star had no future and would "never amount to anything."

Florence, however, defied parental wrath and married Mr. Harding in Marion on July 8, 1891. Amos Kling disowned her and for years would not speak to his son-in-law, though they became reconciled eventually.

The early days of the Hardings were a struggle to put a small country newspaper on its feet. Mr. Harding had built a home for his wife, but the paper was anything but prosperous. Mr. Harding was his own editor, reporter, advertising manager, and at times his own compositor and make-up man.

IDYLIC PARTNERSHIP
The outstanding feature of the life of Warren Harding and his wife was an idyllic partnership, which first asserted itself when Florence Harding insisted that she be given charge of the circulation department of The Marion Star.

Mrs. Harding took complete charge of circulation. For fourteen years she worked in The Star office, mapping out carrier routes and organizing squads of "newsies." She ruled them with a firm hand. No reunion on the "Front Porch" during the campaign days of 1920 was more appealing than when a score or more of Mrs. Harding's charges, now prosperous business men, returned to pay homage to her and her husband.

Health, the first appearance of the malady that finally caused her death, eventually compelled her to drop her work at The Star.

Mrs. Harding after her illness turned her attention exclusively to running their home.

The Hardings had no children. Through the years that Mr. Harding acquired influence and prestige in Ohio and rose by successive steps to be United States senator from Ohio and President, Mrs. Harding's gentle guidance was always present. The Harding home acquired state-wide reputation for hospitality. Suffering from recurring illness, Mrs. Harding never let her condition hamper or impede the steady march of her husband in national affairs.

ROYALTIES MATURE;
TIMBER MEN ARE HERE

Government plans for the establishment of new timber royalties, commencing January 1, are crys-tallizing. A delegation of timber men thrashed out the whole question at a lengthy conference with Premier Oliver and Hon. T.
B. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, today. Following the conference the Premier intimated that legislation royalties would be introduced shortly. The timber men are not asking for a reduction in the present royalty scale but are urging that the increase in the scale which would take place automatically at the beginning of the new year under the present law shall be eliminated. Some compromise between the present scale and the scale provided for by law, it is expected, will be negotiated.

He is a member of the Varsity

He will go to Oxford in October,

Mr. Knappton was born in Queensbury, Yorkshire, England. He spent practically the whole of his boyhood

Visitor to City Takes Three Bicycles From Doorways
in One Day

"A man can't starve. I couldn't secure employment. What's a man to do?" Ernest W. Pike, a recent resident of Victoria, asked Magistrate George Jay in the city police court this morning. Pike was charged with stealing three bicycles. Evidence was given by Detective Caldwell that accused took the bicycles Saturday from doorways on Fort Street. He sold two of them at a second-hand store on Johnson Street, but when he appeared with a third the proprietor of the store became suspicious. Accused pleaded guilty and elected trial forthwith.

"I tried for six weeks to get employment. I was in reduced circumstances. I was brought out here under false pretences by the emigration authorities. I was told everything was O.K. but I can't find work. What is a man to do? Walk about and starve? I tried the city hall and I tried the employment bureau here and in Vancouver.

Accused said his wife and family were in the East.

Sentence was reserved until Tuesday.

Time of Canadian Club
Luncheon is Not Yet Settled

At 1 o'clock to-day it had not been settled which date would be selected for the Canadian Club luncheon to J. Malcolm MacDonald, son of former Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald.

Mr. MacDonald is touring the United States and Canada in connection with a university debating society, and during his absence from England was an unsuccessful candidate for the Bassetlaw Division of Nottinghamshire, which he previously contested in 1923.

Mr. MacDonald will be here on Thursday, and will speak at the Canadian Labor Party meeting that evening.

The Canadian Club luncheon will be held either on Thursday or Friday, an announcement on the matter will be made probably to-morrow.

TO CONFER ON METHOD OF EASING
TAXATION BURDEN

The formation of a strong committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to confer with representatives of the Legislative Assembly to the end that the method of raising municipal revenues be revised, and a more equitable distribution of the burden arrived at, was recommended to the directors to-day in a report on city finances.

Major Holmes, for the committee investigating city finances, presented a comprehensive report on the matter.

During the discussion Mr. Griffith expressed the opinion that the city should take no more loans for taxes, and let the people know that. As it stood now people who could pay their taxes could not do so, and under such a condition no one knew what the future would be. He thought the council should be allowed to elect its own Mayor. It would make experts out of all the aldermen.

David Leeming said he believed to find a solution they must go to some one who was not subject to a popular vote and he thought the Chamber of Commerce was the right body.

C. P. W. Schwengers said everybody who could carry their property should be educated on the duties of citizenship. They should be impressed with the fact that in duty bound they should pay their taxes.
He did not think anything could be done by force.

J. L. Beckwith referred back to the old times when improvements were popular. People should realize they had these improvements now and should put their shoulder to the wheel to carry them. Victoria had magnificent improvements and the people should be prepared to carry the burden.

Victoria could not be the city it is today if it only had the roads of fifteen years ago, remarked Mr.
Schwengers. It would be a useful thing if they could get the information of the number of pieces of property that have reverted because the owners wanted to get from under, and the number who were forced to let their property revert.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS

E. W. McMullen said some of the things for which the city had to be thankful should be drawn attention to. The bonded indebtedness had been reduced considerably in the last two or three years. There would be a struggle for the next two or three years, after which the taxes would be less.

The Government would look to the City Council on affairs of the city it was claimed during the discussion, and it would be of no good for the Chamber of Commerce trying to act independently in approaching the Government.

The recommendation of the committee was adopted. The committee to be formed will report back to the directors' proposed recommendations which they will take up with the city council in an effort to join with the council in approaching the Government.

Thanks to the committee for their report were expressed by
J. W. Spencer.

CHARGE CITY IS

Contractors For Crystal Garden Protest at Delay in Clearing Site

A complaint of the delay in removing the grandstand on the site of the Amusement Centre has been lodged with Mayor Hayward by Luney Bros., contractors for the Crystal Gardens.
In the letter, a copy of which was read at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day, the contractors stated that they had been allowed by the city for removing the grandstand and Luney Bros.
state the work could be done in four days.

If the work were finished Luney Bros. could increase their staff from ten to fifteen men, but if action is not taken they will be forced to lay off the entire gang. The writer protests by their action the city is aggravating the unemployment problem.

AGAINST FORMATION OF SPECIAL COURTS

Chamber of Commerce
Directors Discuss Motor Vehicles Bill

Objections to the clause in the Motor Vehicles Bill under which the Province, after making special judiciary appointments for automobile cases, retains all fines for the Provincial Treasurer were lodged by the legislative committee with directors of the Chamber of Commerce today. The establishment of special courts was also criticized as adding more expense to the Province.

It would be a dangerous thing to let the Province get full control of this matter, said J. L. Beckwith, although on the other hand it would tend to prevent small municipalities in need of fine abating the act to enrich their treasury.

W. E. Stenland said he could not see the need for the establishment of an automobile court. In 1923 fines collected from automobile owners amounted to $1,500. In 1924 they amounted to $1,500. The expense of a judge and clerk of the court were paid there would not be much left over for the Province. He was absolutely opposed to the idea of separate courts, and mentioned that the city police force did all the work in regard to infractions of the traffic laws. He also expressed his self as against fining drivers for minor offences and in favor of the warning system under which a driver received cards for minor infractions.

The committee's report was adopted.

Thomas Retains Colwood Title By Defeating Hodges

Finals For Club Title Results in Victory For Defending Champ by 7 and 5

Big Lead Obtained in First Nine Holes Too Severe Handicap For Challenger

Frank Thomas retained his title as champion of the Colwood Golf Course by defeating Harry Hodges by 7 and 5 in the final yesterday. The match, which was to have been over thirty-six holes wound up at the thirty-first green when Thomas won in five.

Thomas's victory resulted from a commanding lead which he secured in the first nine holes of the morning round. Benefiting from years of experience in the championship play Thomas was as steady as a bank and took early advantage of his rival's nervousness. It was the first time that Hodges had figured in the finals and his unsteadiness going out placed him under a heavy handicap.

On making the turn in the morning Thomas was six up, but from that point on he had a match on his hand. Hodges got settled, and he matched strokes with his redoubtable opponent. Particularly in the afternoon round the play was very keen and close and, when Hodges won the twenty-eighth and the twenty-ninth after halving the previous two holes, it looked as though he would force Thomas close to the home hole.

The defending champion, however, with the next two holes and the match.

NINE UP AT ONE TIME

Thomas started off in the morning by winning the first two holes in 5, one over and the third in 4, one under. A par 3 gave Hodges the fourth, but Thomas won five in a row and was six up at the turn. The tenth was halved in 5 and the eleventh was split with a 4. Thomas put another string of holes in his bag, when he won the next three, which made him 9 up.

Then came a smart recovery by Hodges, who came close to making a hole in one at the fifteenth, his ball hitting the pin and going down for two. The next hole was halved and Hodges proceeded to annex the next two. He had a "birdie" on the seventeenth and a par on the eighteenth. Starting out in the afternoon the nineteenth hole was halved in 5, while Thomas took the next two with 4s. The hole was halved and Hodges picked off the twenty-fifth with a par 3. The next two were halved and Thomas reached the turn seven up.

Hodges turned in a par 4 for the twenty-eighth and won the hole while a par three gave him the following hole. Thomas took the next two with 5s on each.

THOMAS RANKS HIGH

Thomas, the champion, has had a splendid career as a golfer and ranks among the best in the city. Born at Hoylake in the Cheshire, England, he came to the famous Royal Liverpool Course there, swinging his first club when he was thirteen years old. He captained at times for the famous Tom Ball and learned a lot of golf from him.

Thomas won the city and district Red Cross tournament at Oak Bay in 1917 with a gross score of 75, and was runner up for the city championship in 1920. He won the city title in 1922 and repeated again this year. He won the first flight in the P.N.W. championship in 1923 and won the Colwood title last year. He won the qualifying round of the city championship in 1923 and 1924 and took the approaching competition in the event this year.

PRIZES PRESENTED

On the completion of the finals yesterday the president of the club, J. A. Sayward, presented the prizes to the winners in the tournament. Frank Thomas received a silver miniature as well as a cup for the best gross score in the qualifying round. Harry Hodges won a cup as runner-up in the finals. Dr. Haynes won the cup for the best net score in the qualifying round.

E. W. Ismay, who won the first flight by defeating L. H. Hardie by 4 and 3 was presented with a cup. Cups were also given to W. Cathcart, who won the second flight and to J. V. Weston, who won the third flight. A vote of thanks was extended to the tournament committee for the most enjoyable and successful meeting the club had ever experienced.

Kamloops Girls Score Win Over Vancouver Team

Kamloops, Nov. 24.—Vancouver Polytechnic, last year's provincial basketball champion, received a defeat when playing here Saturday night. Kamloops girls team securing a well-deserved victory by 9 to 7. While play was fairly even in the first half, the home team in the second half held their opponents to one lone basket, the remainder of the points of the visitors being scored from free throws.

Cougars Hold Two Stiff Practices; Team Looks Smart

Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—Lester Patrick's Victoria Cougars with a revamped lineup, held two strenuous workouts over the week-end and surprised the local fans with the pace they set. The team is in splendid condition for so early in the season, with Halderson and Meeking traveling in mid-season form.

Patrick, trotted out on the ice himself, placed Bryon, of the local Falcons in one of the nets, and with Elmer of Saskatoon on the forward line, he completed two teams and the boys went at it hammer and tongs.

The following Victoria players were seen in action: Holmes, goal; Halderson, Fraser and Meeking, defense; Frederickson, Meeking, Walker, Hart and Anderson, forwards.

The Victoria manager is not making any predictions, but says he and the players are confident they have a team that will be in the race all the way.

Hamilton Tigers Fail to Stop Rush of Tri-color Squad For Canadian Title

Tigers Did Not Appear to be in Same Class as Conquerors; Few Penalties

Toronto, Nov. 24.—Queen's University, three times intercollegiate champions and twice Canadian titleholders, overcame what is considered their greatest obstacle in their hunt for their third Dominion title on Saturday afternoon when they defeated Hamilton Tigers, inter-provincial winners for the second year, 11 to 1, and so thoroughly outplayed the "Tigers" that the "Big Four" champion did not appear to be in the same class.

Early in the season the tri-color was far from impressive in its victory over Toronto and McGill in the intercollegiate unions, and was expected to be the underdog in the front, but against the inter-provincial champions the Kingston team was always the better, and seemed to be playing for themselves.

The Tigers tried hard all the afternoon and fought right to the last, but it was early seen that only a complete collapse of the university machine would give the Bengals a chance for victory. The winners scored six points, two field goals by Leadley, inside the first five minutes of the game, and from then on played a safe and steady game, keeping the Tigers beyond scoring distance on all except one occasion, and adding the feature of the game in the opportunity offered.

LEADLEY'S GREAT KICKING

The Tigers' only superiority was on the line, but this was more than offset by Leadley's nearly perfect kicking. The champions' captain was responsible for the eleven points scored by his team, scoring three field goals, sending the ball to the dead line on his other attempt for three points, which missed the objective by inches, and then kicking over for a goal.

The Tigers can rightly claim that they held the Leadley-Batstone combination in check better than any other team had this season. Any time that Batstone and Leadley attempted to work around the ends they were stopped, generally for a slight loss, and their only successes were at dashes through the line. Batstone made a total gain of twenty yards in this manner and Leadley added ten to his team's total. Leadley's procedure of the game in the third period when he picked up a bounding ball while under full speed and made a fifty-five-yard gain.

PLENTY OF BRAWN

When in possession of the ball the Tigers advanced 247 yards—thirty-three more than Queen's. Tigers made most of their gains by the use of brawn, while Queen's scored by dashes and speed in getting under way in equal proportions. Like their opponents, Tigers had little, if any success in rounding the ends.

It was in the third that the game was decided. Tigers tried a few outside kicks towards the end of the game, and met with fair success. Both teams sustained a few penalties, but there was nothing of the individual nature to any of them. The game was clean and strenuous.

Queen's—McLeod, flying wing; Batstone, C. McKelvey and Leadley, halves; Baldwin, quarter; Lewis, snap; Brown and Adams, line; Reynolds and Airth, middles; Thomas and Wright, outsides; Muirhead, Chandler, Burley, G. Grondon and Norris, substitutes.

Tigers—Vale, flying wing; Quinn, Gibb and Crocker, halves; Evans, quarter; Cox, snap; Boyette and Reid, insides; Elford and Timmis, middles; Weaver and Walker, outsides; Raynor, Burton, K. Kalger, Tuck, McFarlane and Baker, substitutes.

Referee—Hal Degruy, Toronto.

TORONTO JUNIORS WIN

Only Five Points Separate Fifteen Leading Elevens

Notts County Retains Place at Top of First Division; Birmingham Second

Derby County Snatches Lead From Manchester United in Second Division

London, Nov. 25 (Canadian Press Cable).—Saturday was a day of comparative calm in English football, and outstanding results unsettled the first division of the league.

Out of the eleven games played, six resulted in draws, four home teams acquired full points, while one visiting combination came out with the honors. This latter club was Bolton Wanderers, who emerged victorious with a two-goal score in their contest with Blackburn Rovers.

In the Metropolitan encounters, that between Arsenal and Sunderland was remarkable for the frequency with which Buche, of Sunderland, was penalized. Not a single goal was shot by either club.

The feature of the city was that between the two London teams, Westham and the Spurs, a game which also resulted in a draw.

NEWCASTLE TOO STRONG

Newcastle United enjoyed a rare victory at the expense of Birmingham when they sent their Midland opponents down to the tune of four to nothing. The Tynesiders were altogether too good for Birmingham. Neil Harris accounted for three of the goals.

Everton succumbed badly to Aston Villa on the former's grounds. The first-named club, however, obtained the transfer of J. Broad, a centre, formerly with Stoke, for a fee that is understood to be in the neighborhood of £1,500.

In the feature game of Saturday, Notts County were able to maintain their leadership of the league by drawing with Huddersfield Town, thus demonstrating that their position at the head of the league has been won by sheer merit. The draw was the means of sending Huddersfield down the table, in which they now occupy seventh place.

A CLOSE RACE

The battle for league honors continues close, as may be gathered from the fact that only five points separate the first fifteen teams out of the twenty-two forming the organization. Notts County are followed by Birmingham.

In the Second Division, Derby County snatched leadership from Manchester United when the former gathered in full points from Stockport County, while Manchester were able only to divide the aggregate with Blackpool.

An outstanding feature of the Second Division was the draw between South Shields and Chelsea. Shields have been trailing in the cellar for some considerable time, and the fact that they were able to force the Chelsea team to a division of points in the table, which they are not at all content with the prospect of relegation.

Another remarkable performance was the defeat of Crystal Palace at the hands of Port Vale. Strange, Port Vale's capture from Portsmouth under the name of "Palace" who never settled down convincingly.

THE MASHIE-NIBLICK

The range of the mashie-niblick shot is from eighty to one hundred and twenty yards. Care must be taken not to overwing. Nothing is more fatal to a mashie-niblick shot than a long back swing, as the main thing required is accuracy. The follow through to this shot is of vital importance also, as the club must take possession of the ball for a time long enough to make sure that it is going to be steered in the right direction.

When this shot is mastered, it is a great stroke saver. This can be done around the home in the winter months. If one does not have a place to play in the yard, a large living room will suffice. One can learn a lot by pitching balls into a sofa or a big chair. Taking the ball cleanly each time will make it jump just the right height to land in a chair.

Juniors Start Off Season With a Tie After Extra Play

Harmony and Christ Church Girls Have Exciting Game; Firsts Win Two Games

S.S. BASKETBALL RESULTS

Junior Girls—Harmony 12, Christ Church 12 (tie, overtime).
Intermediate Girls—Wide Awakes 17, Congregational 12.
Intermediate "B" Boys—St. Andrew's 34, The Greys 8.
Senior Boys—First Presbyterians 42, Metropolitans 12.

The opening game in the Junior Girls League resulted in a tie after overtime being played. The Harmony girls from First Presbyterian met the Christ Church Ecclesiastics and when the score was found to be tied at the end of the regular periods, five minutes was played, during which each team scored two baskets. Owing to lack of time the game was called a draw.

WIDE AWAKES

The speedy little Congregational team threat a scare to the Wide Awakes, last year's champions of the intermediate girls' division. Although not considered to have much of a chance against their more experienced opponents, the Congregationalists played a great game and led at one time 8 points to 1. At half time the Congregationalists were still in the lead 8 to 5 and it was not until well on in the second period that the speedy ones finally grew wide enough awake to save the game. The Congregationalists were more often in the win column from now on.

FIRSTS WIN FROM METS

The First Presbyterians had no trouble disposing of the Metropolitans in the men's senior league, winning their second game of the season with ease. Bob Whyte and Bill Hudson were the outstanding players for the "champs."

ST. ANDREW'S VICTORS

St. Andrew's retained the leadership of the intermediate "B" boys' division by defeating the Greys in a fast game. The St. Andrew's team appear very strong this season, having already disposed of two strong opponents in their opening games.

Two local Sunday School basketball teams traveled to Sooke on Saturday evening and met the Sooke players in two exciting games.

Ray Partin Belmont, "Builder" for the Sooke "Sockeyes" in the opening game with remarkable speed. Tervo and the rest of the Belmont sharpshooters seemed to like the small hall and scored rapidly. The Sooke players made things exciting for a time, but could not hold their speedy opponents. The Belmonts won by 42-16, before, Bill Erickson.

SENIORS WIN

Greatest enthusiasm was shown in the senior mens game between Sooke and St. Andrew's. Both teams started at a great clip and Sooke gained a slight lead in the opening period, which they held at half-time. St. Andrew's held their opponents on practically Headed by E. L. Richardson, president of the Western Canada League, the Calgary party arrived Saturday afternoon and are in fine condition.

Manchester Race Won by Cloudbank

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 24.—Cloudbank by Nimbuss out of Berengara, at 100 to 9 against, owned by J. White, won the November Handicap of £1,500, the last big event of the flat racing season, run here Saturday. William Singer's Dalmoy, 5 to 4 against, was second and J. Hull's False Alarm at 33 to 1 against, was third. Seventeen ran. Cloudbank won by three lengths, while a length separated the second and third horses.

Heydler Only Man For Job as Boss

New York, Nov. 24.—If there is any other candidate for the National League presidency than John A. Heydler, whose term expires this year, Charles A. Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, declared yesterday he had not heard of it.

Taking cognizance of reports that at least one club owner in the senior league was preparing to support a move to replace the present executive, Mr. Stoneham said:

"Mr. Heydler will be a candidate to succeed himself at the annual meeting here December 2. I have heard of no other candidate and feel sure there will be none at this late date."

even terms till near the close of the game when a final rally tied the score. Guy Waddington played a nice game for Sooke, putting his team ahead again with two nice shots. Reg. Wood, McPherson and Lee Smith scored one each in the last minute, winning the game for St. Andrew's after a thrilling finish by 25-20. Referee, Ray Partin.

Esquimalt and Vets Now Lead First Division

Former Defeated Sons of England; Red Shirts Beat Wests by 3-2

United Services Sprang Surprise Defeating Wards 5-1; Soccer Race Keen

Veterans	P. W.	L.	D.	Pct.
Veterans	6	4	1	59
Esquimalt	7	3	1	73
Victoria Wests	7	2	3	73
North Wards	6	2	2	75
Sons of England	7	1	3	55
United Services	7	3	0	86

Results of Saturday's games were as follows:

Veterans 3, Victoria Wests 2.

Esquimalt 4, Sons of England 1.

United Services 5, North Wards 1.

Two surprises were handed out in Saturday's First Division football games. Playing on a field covered with mud and with a heavy rain falling the Veterans handed a defeat to the Wests, while the United Services showing greatly improved form trounced the Wards at Work Point. In the other match Esquimalt accounted for the Sons of England. As a result of the way the games went the Vets and Esquimalt are now tied for the leadership of the division, while the Wests have dropped down to third place one point ahead of the Wards.

Playing under the most adverse conditions the Vets and Wests put up a great fight at the Royal Athletic Park. The field was covered with pools of water and its slippery condition made good footwork and combination impossible.

After about twenty minutes of play the greenshirts went into the lead. Youson secured the ball in the goal mouth and, after falling, he managed to get the ball over the goal line before it was booted out again.

VETS GO INTO LEAD

The Wests' lead was short-lived as the redshirts carried the ball down the field from the kick-off, and Clarkson lifted in a nice centre, which Merfield headed into the net. Just before the half the Irish jumped into the lead when Erskine sent in a shot from the right wing, the ball hitting the post and glancing into the net.

In the second half the heavy ground began to tell on the players, and play slowed up. Both teams found the net once, and in each case the goal was scored from a penalty. Campbell booted the ball between the posts for the Vets, while Muir did the trick for the Wests a few minutes before time. During this time Jackson and Speyer were off the field by Referee McMillan.

The teams were as follows:

Veterans—Bridges, Campbell, Owens, Roe, Preston, Davidson, Pettit, Erskine, Southern, Merfield and Clarkson.
Victoria West—Shandley, Copas, Baker, Popham, Thomas, Peden, Sherratt, Mulcahy, Youson, Muir and Waddington.

Completely outclassing their opponents the United Services staged a great comeback, defeating the North Wards at Work Point by a heavy score. The players were greatly handicapped by the heavy condition of the ball, and the pools of water and mud on the field.

From the start the Services men pressed hard on the Wards' goal, and Cummings was called upon to stop a number of hard shots. After breaking up a number of dangerous rushes the Services carried the play to the other end of the field, and their first goal came when Brynjolfsson shot the ball between the sticks with a low shot. From centre-forward the Services rushed the ball into their opponent's territory, and Cosier evened things up, beating Cummings with a high shot. A few minutes later the Services eleven jumped into the lead, which they retained for the remainder of the match. After carrying the ball down the line Cosier centred, and Coulter headed the drive into the net. The Services men continued their attack on the Wards' citadel, and Spiers put his team farther ahead, when he scored with a shot that had Cummings beat all the way. This ended the scoring in the first half.

During the first part of the second period the Wards tried hard to score but the Services' back division was sound, and the opposing forwards were unable to break through. With the end of the match drawing near, Cave scored again for the Services, netting the ball with a pretty shot. The attack on the Wards' goal continued, and Coulter scored again for the Services.

Sanders refereed, and the teams were:

United Services—Zanelli, Allen and Grimes; Robinson, Whyte and Ward; Cummings, Spiers, Coulter, Cave and Cosier.
North Wards—Cummings; Bell and Taylor; Kroeger, Brynjolfsson, Wale; Cummings, Motion, Cummings, McKinnon and Howden.

At Beacon Hill, Esquimalt maintained their position as one of the league leaders by defeating the Sons of England. Both teams unceremoniously fought the game, and considering the condition of the grounds and weather the brand of soccer was good.

The Sons were considerably handicapped at the start of the match by being short four of their men, who turned up late. The dockyarders attacked hotly right at the start, and Warren put the suburbanites one up, when he scored with a neat shot. The Sons pressed for a few minutes, and twice they broke through, but their shooting was poor, the shots for goal going wide.

Percy Payne refereed, and the teams were:

Sons of England—McPhee, Church, Armitage, Reg. Shanks, Swan, Richardson, H. Smith, Shanks, Hurn, Newman and Connorton.
North Wards—Watt, Mesher, Hosmer, Edwards, De Costa, Stewart, John Watt, Tom Watt, Warren and Davidson.

Flat Racing Comes To Close For Year On English Tracks

London, Nov. 24.—With the conclusion of the race meetings at Lingfield and Manchester on Saturday, the flat racing season in England ended.

The champion jockey during the season is a young 20-year-old apprentice Charles Elliott, who steered 106 winners and is the only jockey in this country to ride more than 100 winners. R. Jones is second on the list with 84 winners, and Steve Donoghue third with 81. It will be recalled that Donoghue shared the winning honors with Elliott last season.

The list of winning owners is headed by Prince Aga Khan, whose horses met with phenomenal success, netting their owners nearly $45,000. King George had a very poor year and won barely a dozen races, but he is the list of winning breeders, and R. C. Dawson has trained most of the winning horses.

Calgary Suffers Defeat In First Game With Pats

Western Champs Lose Exhibition Fixture in Toronto By Odd Goal in Nine

Both Teams Shy on Condition; Tigers Worked Too Much Combination

Toronto, Nov. 24.—St. Patrick's of Toronto defeated Calgary 5 to 4 in an exhibition game here Saturday night.

The fixture played provided better hockey than the majority of the fans expected. The Irish were the first to make the score, board boy work, but Calgary ran in two in quick succession before the first period ended, only to have the locals notch a pair of the second frame. Both teams scored two in the last period, the Irish increasing their lead to three goals within the first seven minutes, but Calgary again worked the one, two, and for the remainder of the game were striving for the equalizer.

Both teams were short on condition, but frequent interjection of substitutes, whenever the play lagged kept up the pace.

The only penalty came in the second period, in which Stuart and Dutton were the offenders. Stuart and Campbell worked well on the defence for the Irish, and Roach was his old self in goal. Of the substitutes, Holloway was the best. Andrew, Jackson and Speyer were the other substitutes.

ADAMS SCORES TWO

Dye and Adams each notched a pair of goals, while Corbeau secured the other. Dye and Adams each deserved a couple more, but either saved the posts or let Winkler show his best aim. All four Celtic goals came when the Irish regulars were having resting spells. The first two when Andrew, Jackson and McCaffery composed the forward line and the last pair when Speyer was relieving Stuart.

Bobby Benson, formerly of the Falcon world's champions, caught the Celtic forwards off their feet. He was the smallest man on the ice he was very effective and his rushes down the ice were always dangerous. Leckie, formerly of the Alta, an amateur champion last year, made good in his debut, while Cully Wilson and "Spunk" Sparrow tried hard all the way and landed lots of shots into the goal. Morris and Oliver were also good, but the Westerners were inclined to overdo the combination and lost several chances to score by too much passing. Gardiner and Dutton starred on the defence.

The lineup:

St. Pats.	Position	Calgary
Roach	Goal	Winkler
Stuart	Defence	Gardiner
Stuart	Defence	Dutton
Adams	Forward	Morris
Dye	Forward	Oliver
Noble	Forward	Mackie
Holloway	Substitute	Sparrow
Speyer	Substitute	Benson
Andrew	Substitute	Anderson

Referee—Lou Marsh, Toronto.

SUMMARY

First period—1. St. Pats. Dye, 8.15. 2. Calgary, Sparrow, 7.00. 3. Calgary, Wilson, 30.
Second period—4. St. Pats. Adams, 7.00. 5. St. Pats. Corbeau, 40.
Third period—6. St. Pats. Adams, 4.00. 7. St. Pats. Dye, 3.03. 8. Calgary, Anderson, 3.30. 9. Calgary, Dutton, 4.15.

The winners second counter came just before the rest period, when John Watt sent a fast shot into the net.

Upon the resumption of play the Sons went on the attack, and Bennett, the Esquimalt goalie, was given a few anxious moments. Esquimalt advanced farther into the lead when Tom Watt got his foot to the ball after a general scrimmage in the Sons' goal mouth, and booted it into the net. The Sons again took up the attack, and their efforts were at last rewarded, two goals coming in quick succession. Shanks scored the first after a fine solo rush, and duplicated the feat a few minutes later. Tom Watt brought a close to the scoring when he beat McPhee, the Sons' goalie, with a fast drive.

Percy Payne refereed, and the teams were:

Sons of England—McPhee, Church, Armitage, Reg. Shanks, Swan, Richardson, H. Smith, Shanks, Hurn, Newman and Connorton.
North Wards—Watt, Mesher, Hosmer, Edwards, De Costa, Stewart, John Watt, Tom Watt, Warren and Davidson.

POOLEY ADDRESSED MAINLAND AUDIENCE

Conservative Leader Spoke at Ward Party Meeting in Marpoie

Marpoie, Nov. 24.—R. H. Pooley, leader of the Conservatives in the Legislature of British Columbia, spoke at a meeting in Granville Hall Saturday night under the auspices of the Ward Four, Point Grey Conservative Association, Col. W. W. Foster presiding.

He criticized the attitude of Premier Oliver in the House, claiming Major R. J. Burde had the privilege of interrupting to such an extent that for several sessions the proceedings savored of a bear garden. "The Opposition did not interfere for some time in order that the new members might become disgusted with the tactics employed," he said, "but I want to tell you that we are active over there and the Liberals have realized it, for our team work is telling."

HIS PARTY'S HOPES
"Some people deprecate the possibility of an election in the near future," continued Mr. Pooley, "but I believe with the assistance of some of the Independents to put John Oliver out, and if we cannot do it this session we will at least try our best."

The condition of the Liberals, Mr. Pooley said, was chaotic. "They are tied hand and foot, and don't know where they are going, but are on their way, I hope, over the precipice," he said. Commenting on the budget, Mr. Pooley remarked that the Opposition did not intend to see the position camouflaged, and declared that instead of saving a million dollars as they were simply saving a few thousands by cutting off the heads of a few officials.

The Mothers' Pension fund, he said, had been taken out of the liquor profits. Mr. Pooley admitted the advisability of selling the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, in which $54,000,000 had been invested, but criticized the methods of the Liberals in connection with its disposal. "Mr. Oliver's proposal amounts simply to having a blank cheque handed over to him to fill in as he likes," said Mr. Pooley, "for he asks us to agree to the sale 'upon such terms and conditions as are contained in the bill which he desires to bring down,' and we do not know the contents of the bill."

"We demand to go into committee to discuss fully the entire details of the proposed sale and the persons to whom the line is to be sold, in order to protect the Province and the people."

"Any agreement made must be brought before the House for ratification, for while we are anxious to do all in our power to sell the P.G.E. we do not intend to hand Mr. Oliver a blank cheque."

TIMBER ROYALTIES

The absentee vote also was criticized by Mr. Pooley, but he spoke favorably of the proposal to lower the timber royalties and thereby assist that industry. Leon J. Ladner, M.P., and J. W. Jones, M.P.P., also addressed the meeting, their remarks being mainly along tariff lines and the exodus of Canadians to the United States, the former dealing with the question from a Federal standpoint, while Mr. Jones brought the matter into local quarters.

The regular fortnightly whist drive was held in the Hope Bay Hall last Friday evening instead of Port Washington and proved a great success. There were ten tables in play, the winners being Mrs. Moore and Mr. McGary, while the consolation prizes were awarded Miss Duberg and Mr. Jack Tolpuitt. Refreshments were served by the ladies, after which dancing was indulged in until an early hour.

On the next evening a similar event was held in the same hall, this time under private arrangement, and proved even more popular than the previous night. Eleven tables were occupied, and the first prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. S. Stings and Mr. C. R. Brackett. The booties were won by Mrs. J. Clague and Mr. Roy Adams. Dancing and refreshments followed.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its monthly meeting to-day and further plans were discussed for the forthcoming Christmas treat for the children. YOUR HEALTH

WHY NO WOUND OR PAIN
SHOULD BE THOUGHT TRIVIAL

By Royal S. Copeland, M.D.

Yesterday I passed in a railroad station to read a placard which gave warning against accidents. This is what caught my eye:

A moment of carelessness may mean a lifetime of regret.

How true that is!

Every day you see automobiles take chances. In most instances, of course, nothing happens except some extra heart-throbs. But now and then the crash comes and somebody is badly hurt or killed.

It is almost as bad to kill somebody as to be killed yourself.

You will suffer remorse the rest of your life if you seriously damage or kill a fellow being.

The charm of surroundings and the forgetfulness of a moment may have results which will ruin your life. That moment of carelessness regarding the outcome of your adventure may mean years of physical suffering, and an untimely death. It may mean destruction for you and lasting disgrace for those dear to you.

A human life is too precious to gamble with. To main the body or to infect it with disease is to destroy its usefulness. That careless moment may do both.

Since I am preaching you a little sermon to-day, I might as well make it a real one. So I shall repeat the question St. Paul asked the Corinthians:

"What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?"

Paul teaches what I think we should all accept—that the body is God's and we have no right to defile it.

It is little short of wicked to do deliberately a thing which we know beforehand will wound the body or produce disease. There are many hazards which cannot be assayed, but every day we take uncalculated chances.

If we possess a precious piece of china, an antique table, or a fine garment, we treat it with great consideration. We take every precaution against accident to it or damage of any sort.

But to the needs of the far more precious human body we seem utterly indifferent. A wound, a growth, an unusual pain, an unaccustomed shortness of breath—too often we disregard a thing which should be mentioned to the doctor.

Let me warn you to use common sense in the protection of your physical welfare. Do not slight or neglect it. Remember always that a moment of carelessness may mean a lifetime of regret.

At a recent smart wedding, when the happy pair were leaving the church in their car, the bridegroom, his face wreathed in smiles, waved farewell through the window, then turned to gaze ecstatically upon his bride.

At that moment a youth—the one male in a surging crowd of excited spinsters—shouted warningly, "Mind the paint, mister!"

H. LLOYD ATTRIBUTES SUCCESS TO POSSESSION OF FACULTY FOR GAUGING WHAT MAKES FILM FUN

Film Comedian in "Hot Water," Now at Dominion, Gives Clever
Example of How to Get the Best Out of a Situation
Leading to Laughter

Have you a motion picture mind? If not, cultivate one, for it's all you need to win success in the movies. There is nothing strange about a motion picture mind. It is merely the ability to think along the lines of the cinema—to be able to visualize your thoughts transplanted to the screen. Very few stars possess this sense, which is very rare indeed. The average star does not need it, however, for they are called upon merely to transcribe to the silver screen what the author and director lay out for them.

Harold Lloyd, on the other hand, is the unusual exception. Lloyd has a "picture mind" in the highest form. In the first place he always works from original stories. And these stories invariably are developments of his own ideas.

Lloyd can tell instantaneously whether a gag can be successfully put into picture form and still retain the humor it had in story form. He is quick to grasp the possibilities of a piece of business, and his forte is the development of "gags"—getting out of them all the opportunities they offer.

One can look over any Lloyd picture, and judge for himself whether the comedian makes the best possible use of material. In comedy, a gag can be dropped too soon or carried so far as to lose most of its appeal. Watch "Hot Water," Harold's mind" idea. One of the principal objections held by the comedian against plays and novels, of course, is the fact that he never could transfer them to the screen as they are written, and would thereby disappoint the hosts who helped make the play or book popular.

There is not one author in five thousand, perhaps, who can write "gags" that would look funny on the screen. This goes for our most famous fictionists, who have not "picture minds." There have been very few funny stage plays which have retained their humor in motion picture form. There have been several noticeable exceptions to this but very few indeed.

Mark Twain did not live in the picture age, but some of his stories have created the best and most successful comedies produced on the screen. "A Connecticut Yankee," for example, will always stand as one of the funniest contributions to the silent drama.

Bits of life are what make the most humorous business on the screen. Lloyd has found, although it frequently is necessary to exaggerate them slightly to get the fullest measure of usefulness from them. Lloyd has demonstrated, however, that to be funny does not mean to over-exaggerate. The type of business that appeals to Lloyd most is the natural thing.

"Hot Water" is full of these incidents beginning the moment the mother-in-law invades the domain of the newlyweds.

BLANCHE SWEET CARRIES HEAVY ROLL WITH ARTISTIC CONCEPTION IN "TESS OF THE D'URBERVILLES"

Womanly Character Unmixed With Something of Material Make-up is Buffeted in This World of Contrasts, Says Leading Lady in Film Now at Capitol Theatre

Blanche Sweet bids fair to win for herself the title of the screen's outstanding interpreter of emotional roles. It is not so many months since her "Anne Christie" was being hailed as one of the particularly bright spots in a year notable for illustrious pictures and performances.

Miss Sweet since undertook to transfer "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" from the pages of Thomas Hardy's classic novel to the screen, under the direction of her husband, Marshall Neilan, who made the picture for Metro-Goldwyn. This production is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

COMPARES ROLES

"The two roles are similar enough to form an interesting parallel, dissimilar enough to invite study," Miss Sweet says in comparing Tess and Anna. "Anna and Tess are both women of the peasant type. They are too elemental to walk without stumbling in the complicated maze of an artificial society. They suffer the same personal indignity; they are both left to fight with their bewilderment on discovering how incredibly unreasonable and cruel men can be, even when they claim to love."

"With Anna, I had to portray a character who had not so much of the woman left in her. Tess, on the other hand, is all woman to believe. American who loves Renee, and he was never more ingratiating, nor more manly. Robert McKim plays Manuel, a Mexican outlaw, and adds to his laurels as one of the best of screen villains. Others in the film cast include Robert Edeson, John Sainpolis, Evelyn Selbie, Gus Hartzan, Nigel de Brulier and Nick de Ruiz.

Joseph Evans, putting on a farce, "The Fool of the Force." From every angle this is an excellent comedy with a good plot and plenty of action.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA AT CAPITOL TO-NIGHT

Under the masterful leadership of Director Prescott the Capitol concert orchestra will play the special musical accompaniment to the feature attraction "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Marshall Neilan's great production of Thomas Hardy's great English classic, at the Capitol this week.

numbers that the Capitol concert orchestra will play were: "Maid of the Mountains" (by request) "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" "Entracte valse, from 'Coppelia Ballet'" "Salut d'Amour" "Elgar's 'Melody in F'" "Rubenstein's 'Pavane'" "Paul Michelin, the Capitol house organist, will preside at the console and will also be heard playing several musical numbers which should prove, in addition to the orchestra, a great treat for music lovers.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS," NOW SHOWING AT THE COLISEUM, IS SENSATION OF FILM WORLDSuperb De Mille Spectacle Pictures of Egypt at Apex of Power and Exodus of Children of Israel From Land of Captivity

Cecil B. De Mille's triumphant masterpiece "The Ten Commandments," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, is the sensation of two continents. With its tremendous appeal to all classes, creeds and nationalities, it is as popular in London, Paris and Melbourne as it is in this country. The first part of this De Mille offering is a superb spectacle which shows Egypt at the apex of its power, the exodus of the Children of Israel from the land of captivity, their safe passage between the mighty walls of the parted Red Sea, the giving of the Ten Commandments, and the destruction of the Golden Calf.

The second or modern part develops the same theme in its application to the life of to-day through a thrilling dramatic story of love, devotion and wilful self-destruction. In both parts is found the basic element of great drama—conflict. Never before in the history of stage or screen has there been told a story that so moves the human heart to its very depths. It has the wide sweep of an Homeric epic, the rugged strength of a Scandinavian saga, the sublimity of the Pentateuch.

As is most fitting this mighty dramatic spectacle is enacted by a remarkable cast of stellar players, including Theodore Roberts, Leatrice Joy, Rod La Rocque, Richard Dix, Nita Naldi, Robert Edison, Agnes Ayres, Estelle Taylor and Charles De Roche. Dr. Hugo Riesendorf's wonderful score accompanying the production will be played by an orchestra of twenty men who are carried on tour.

FACULTY CONCERT
OF HIGH STANDARDTeachers of New Conservatory Make Favorable Impression

On Saturday evening, under the distinguished patronage of Dr. A. S. Vogt, principal of Toronto Conservatory of Music, the recently organized Victoria Conservatory of Music gave a faculty concert in the Anglican Memorial Hall. As an augury of what can be accomplished by this institution an extremely meritorious and high standard programme was efficiently rendered. Besides the "Triumph in D Minor" (Mendelssohn), first movement, allegro, for violin, cello and piano; the violin solo (Mozart-Kreisler), the vocal group (a) "Ah! le so" from Mozart's "Magic Flute," (b) "Villanelle" (Dell'Acqua), and (c) "My Sweet Repose" (Schubert), by Mary McCoy Jamieson, soprano, head of the vocal department; the cello solo, "Sonata in F" (Strauss), the pianoforte solo, "Fantasia No. 4, C Minor"; the group of "Negro Spirituals" for soprano, with the quartette string arrangements by Miss Justine Gilbert, sung by Mrs. Jamieson, what more concerns the community for the moment and the more interesting is the fact of the formation of a string quartette, this being composed of members from the faculty. In this direction a string quartette is regarded as the greatest musical acquisition to any community. Its "arrival" is considered the loftiest attainment in the realm of strings, and compositions for the string quartette are the highest forms of music-writing. Indeed the great masters of the past and present generations have always given of their very best in this sphere, and in their examples have given to the world the very best standards of musical composition. So then when it is announced that a quartette of strings has been established all true musicians at once recognize its importance and its influence. It sets the standard in all things appertaining to the highest, the best, the very classic. On these lines, then, Victoria musically can lift up its head with justifiable pride. As to the proficiency of the quartette in question time alone will tell, for it is well known that much-needed ensemble, co-operation and constant practice together are its greatest requirements. An opportunity will no doubt be afforded in the near future, when its progress and its accomplishments will be duly noted. This quartette comprises Drury Pryce, first violin, Vernon Smith, second violin, Miss Justine Gilbert, viola, and Harold Taylor, violoncello. The numbers given on Saturday were the "Quartette No. 41 in D Minor," by "Papa" Haydn; the quintette for piano, two violins, viola and cello (Schumann), and two numbers from a descriptive "Chinese suite," (a) "Pond Lilies" and (b) "The Temple Gates," by Miss Justine Gilbert.

SPLENDID RECITAL
GIVEN BY COURBOIN

Over a thousand of Victoria's citizens were present at the organ recital given by Charles M. Courboin, the famous Belgian organist on Saturday in the Metropolitan Church. Just a week ago, in the course of his present transcontinental tour of Canada and America, Mr. Courboin appeared in recital at the organ of the same church, and the profound impression he then made, no doubt brought out the very large audience of Saturday. Deeply grateful must the Friendly Help Association feel in the expressed wishes of the celebrated organist to give a recital during his return here for a day or so, in aid of some charitable organization of the city and through George J. Dyke, who was instrumental in bringing Mr. Courboin to the city, and Edward Parsons, the organist of the church, together with his willing assistants, the purpose of the recital was attained, and the funds of the local society benefited to the extent of nearly $250. Much has already been said of the great gifts and accomplishments of this magnetic organist, and well can he be termed the Shakespeare of the organ, but the one thing that made a profound impression and could not be unnoticed was the tense and wrapt attention, and the hushed stillness that were created and prevailed during the twilight hour of this recital that will linger long in the memories of those who filled the church. With the one single exception in the Lotti "Aria," with its eternal melody (repeated by request), Mr. Courboin again selected an admirable programme which gave ample opportunities in manifesting his prodigious technique, his inventive genius in organ registration, his phenomenal gift of memory, and his mastery over the multitudinous resources of the organ. The programme opened with Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in A minor," full of this master's architectural grandeur, followed by three other groups in which were included the "Aria," already mentioned; Widor's "Pastorale," beautiful in color and expression; Cesar Franck's "Piece Heroique," complete in its romantic treatment and pedal manipulation; Schumann's divine "Abendlied"; the beautiful "Largo" from Saint Saens, third symphony and the same composer's "March Heroique," written in memory of a friend killed in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. The occasion marked also the assistance of Victoria's favorite baritone, Gideon Hicks, who, always assured of a sincere reception, not only shared in the great enthusiasm shown by those present, but, seemingly inspired by the superb accompaniment of the famous organist reached such magnificent vocal heights in Mendelssohn's great aria, perhaps the greatest baritone solo ever written, "It Is Enough," from "Elijah." That never before, in our opinion at least, has ever been equaled by this superb vocalist. Its presentation was the culmination of the highest conception and evoked unbounded enthusiasm. Mr. Hick's second number was a notable example of Russia's tragically plaintive folk-melodies in Tchaikovsky's "Pilgrim's Song." Alderman Sargent, who was present, thanked all concerned on behalf of the Friendly Help Society.

"The Parting of the Red Sea"—Scene from "The Ten Commandments" at the Coliseum this week

QUEEN MARIE OF RUMANIA "DOWN ON THE FARM"
Queen Marie spends much of her time on the royal farm at Segarcea. Marie is one of the greatest actresses of the day. Whenever she appears before the peasants she wears the native Rumanian costume. Here she is pictured with her pet horse, a magnificent chestnut draft stallion.

SON OF GODS LOSES—He lost, Prince Sumi, fourth son of the Emperor Yoshihito of Japan, dashed in third and panting in the annual autumn track and field meet at the Peers School in Tokio. The eight-year-old descendant of the gods causes his attendants great alarm by playing so much at strenuous foreign sports.

JEAN PATOU AT WORK—Jean Patou, famous couturier from Paris, studies models he has selected in New York. He will design clothes especially for them.

WROTE RAIN SONG—"The Red-Headed Music Maker" otherwise known as Wendall Hall, who has delighted thousands of Canadian radiophans with his songs over the radio, is at present on a radio honeymoon, having been wed by radio with the whole continent listening in. Hall says he wrote "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More" because it was a rainy day and he had no umbrella.

OUT FOR LIONS—Miss Margaret Thayer, Philadelphia heiress and society girl, who has sailed for a big game hunt in the African jungles. The heads and hides of any lions shot will be preserved for the Philadelphia museum.

BREAKS DOWN CASTE LINES—Princess of Anhalt, whose marriage to a commoner, Theodore Blenert, indicates the extent of the reaction from the old monarchistic ideas in Germany, when caste and titles were paramount. The Princess is the widow of Prince Joachim, who committed suicide a few years ago, and who was the youngest son of the ex-kaiser.

WHERE ROMANCE WOULD HAVE ROBBED WORLD—If Florence Nightingale had been drawn into an early romance when her cousin, Rev. John Smithurst, wanted to marry her, the world would never have heard of her as the famous Red Cross nurse. The disappointed suitor came to Canada as an Anglican missionary to the Indians at Fort Garry. He was later at Elora and St. Catharines. Rev. John Smithurst is in the upper left. Next is shown the cross that marks his grave in the cemetery at Elora, and the old rectory of St. John's Church in which he lived while incumbent of that parish. Below, is a silver service communion service the first Red Cross nurse gave to her former fiancé as a remembrance gift, and, right, Florence Nightingale as young woman, at the time of her engagement to the Elora pastor.

LOSES VANITY SUIT—Lady Terrington, former Liberal M.P., who lost a libel suit against Lord Beaverbrook over an article criticizing her smart clothes as being too frivolous for a legislator.

GANGLAND'S TRIBUTE TO FALLEN CHIEF—Chicago's gangland gave Dion O'Banion, fallen chief, a kingly "send-off." It buried him in a $10,000 casket of ornate silver and gold. And it banked the coffin with $25,000 worth of flowers bought in O'Banion's own floral shop, where a few days before he had been shot down, among his posies, by rival hi-jackers. Twenty thousand persons jammed the streets in front of the undertaker's chapel where the services were held. The doors of Holy Name Cathedral, where once O'Banion had been an altar boy, were closed to him. But gangland held a ritual of its own. Powerful politicians rubbed shoulders with kings of the underworld, as an orchestra played "Ave Maria" at his bier.

DIABETES EXPERTS—These two young women have written a new book on the proper diet for diabetic patients, which has the official sanction of Dr. F. G. Banting and Dr. J. A. Glichrst who, in the foreword, point out that the use of insulin is only satisfactory when accompanied by proper diet. Left is Mrs. Ross Stuart; Right is Mrs. R. W. Savage, 433 Spadina Road, Toronto. Both were graduates from University of Toronto, in 1919.

HOW FIRE LOOKED FROM AIR—This is remarkable airplane view of the $5,000,000 Jersey City, N.J. fire, at its height. More than 1,500 families were made homeless, it is estimated, when a dozen tenement houses were destroyed. Three large factories also were raised. Firemen from Jersey City, Hoboken and New York fought the flames for several hours before the conflagration finally was brought under control.

BEDTIME STORY
Uncle Wiggily and the Cranberries
Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By Howard R. Garis)

"Now, Uncle Wiggily, you'll have to stop lively this week!" squeaked Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzey in the hot low stumpy bungalow one morning. "You'll have no time for adventures this week!"

"Why not?" asked the bunny gentleman, wondering whether his musty rat lady housekeeper would let him wrinkle his pink nose, which he did anyhow.

"Because it will be Thanksgiving on Thursday," said Nurse Jane, "and here are the cranberries to get ready, the pumpkin pies to bake and the turkey to invite."

"For, you see, instead of eating turkey at Thanksgiving, as some of us do, Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane always invited a turkey to have dinner with them, and very kind of them, I think if you ask me about it."

"Oh, ho! So it is Thanksgiving!" cried the jolly bunny uncle. "And next month is Christmas! Oh, what jolly times we are going to have. I'll hop along and get the cranberries at once."

"And don't spill them, whatever you do," called Nurse Jane to him as the bunny hopped away from his hollow stumpy bungalow.

As Uncle Wiggily was skipping through the woods, not far from the

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe, or even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the money old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister.

Just rub it on with your fingertips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief, 10c and 75c, at all druggists.

NEW SERIAL STORY

Christine of the Hungry Heart

A Thrilling Love Story by Kathleen Norris

After a while they were summoned to a perfect little meal, and then, when she had shown him her house, and the particular little gem of a bedroom was to be his own, Christine knew his limitations made him rest. It was after four o'clock when they climbed into a particularly smart yellow car, and she drove him to the country club, seven miles away. When they got there, she asked a steward if Dr. Montague was in the club.

"He finished his game about an hour ago, Chris," called a handsome woman who was carelessly assorting things. "I think Bob Caswell drove him home!"

"Oh, thanks, Isabelle!" Christine returned, and Dan was astonished to see that she looked actually sick with disappointment. "Isn't that too bad? I wanted to see him. I have tea with Alan!" she kept saying in an ever-louder voice, as she showed Dan about the beautiful place and the lovely people who lived there.

She slowly descended the big entrance steps, just at five o'clock, and Dan thought that if ever a beautiful setting became a beautiful woman, he was privileged to see the two.

Men and women were watching her now; she did not see them. She moved, a lovely slender vision, between them and descended to her car, and as she got in Dan heard her say "Brother!"

"They were running through beautiful country lanes now; the sun behind them so low in the sky that long streamers of light fell almost horizontally through the great trees on either side."

"Chris— isn't this place Heaven?" Dan cried.

"Isn't it?" she said abstractedly. He saw that she was concerned with some not entirely serene thought, and asked her if she fancied that he had passed Alan as they came.

"No, I think I know where he is!" she said briefly. "He—I think I know!" And so immediately that he knew the two thoughts were connected she said that she had ever heard of Professor, Winney.

"Of the chemistry books?" Dan asked.

"That's the man. He—they are our friends—the closest—I think," Christine said, in a rather odd tone.

"Live up this way?"

"Oh, yes—only three miles from us. We're going, Alan!" She scrutinized the road ahead sharply and realized that both her voice and her hand were shaking.

"Aren't they rather elderly?" Dan asked.

"He is sixty. He has a son who is twenty-five or six—John, they call him. But he's a very nice fellow. His wife's thirty-five or six, I suppose."

"Russians?"

"Oh, no. He's French, and she's a straight American—Kate Hardisty, she was. But Ivan's mother was an Irishwoman. He's the most gifted creature, but so tiresome! He's been desperately hurt from an airplane accident—it's a ligament fractured—near the hip, I believe. Alan just adores him. Alan's operated once, and may again. He adores the whole family. And I'm glad he does—don't think I mind! Christine finished almost defiantly and in a shaking voice.

Christie stopped at a certain house, walked familiarly through the garden, and the wide, empty hallway. She and Dan went across an old-fashioned sunken side-porch, and were immediately met by a comfortable, able family group, that included Alan, established on the grass, under some big trees.

A square old man with glasses, and a curly mane of silver hair; that was the professor. A thin, shrill-voiced child of ten, that was Peter. A splendid, vivid woman in a faded pink cotton, a woman whose honest brown face, whose quick, living brown eyes, and whose vibrant voice dominated the group imperially—this was, of course, Kate.

And besides there were Alan, rising pleased and hospitable to greet his wife's friend, and an extraordinary-looking boy in a steamer chair, with a rug across his legs. His was the Latin blond type; passionate black eyes, a milk-and-rose skin, and a mop of bright golden hair. There was a sort of down on his cheeks, bones, and on the back of his nervous long hands, tied here in ruffs and pillows he yet suggested energy, like some young struggling woodland thing in the jaws of a trap.

Dan instantly detected the egoist; Ivan talked well, and he talked all face bent over the instrument.

"Kate? My dear girl, I am sorry—this is Alan. I completely forgot— How is it working? Did he get to sleep?"

Then Christine saw his expression change; he looked stricken.

"My God, my dear! I wouldn't have had this happen for a million dollars! Poor kid! Oh, no, no, I'll come right over. Oh, I'll be there in five minutes! Tell him I'm coming. And you didn't call me—I don't call that friendship! I don't! Kate—it isn't like you. All right! Be right over!"

Absorbed, brisk, oblivious of her very existence, he had kissed her and was gone.

Of this particular conversation between husband and wife, Dan, of course, could know nothing. But he knew enough, when the next evening his last wife arrived, to feel no hesitation in what he had to say.

SOMETHING ABOUT SAXIFRAGES

How and Where to Grow Members of a Most Fascinating Plant Family, Which Offers Bloom Nearly All the Year

By JOHN HUTCHISON, F.R.H.S.

The Rockfoils as a genus are extensive, and they easily surpass all other families in their value for the adornment of the rock garden. The genus contains so many species that making a selection is no easy task for a beginner. The writer has been asked a number of times of late to give a list of some of those which may be grown with comparative ease. These notes are in answer to these inquiries.

Taking the earliest flowering varieties to begin with, the cushion or Kabschia section are the first to bloom in the Spring, and although this section contains many plants which are not attractive at all times, with the additional feature that they are covered in Spring with white flowers. One of the best and most useful of this group is Saxifrage Wallcotei, with distinct foliage of a light green color and large white flowers, which are sweetly scented. Saxifrage Trifurcata is an elegant plant with stiff leaves of a glaucous hue, and graceful sprays of white flowers. Saxifrage Decipiens is a strong, easily grown kind, some forms of which have pink and red flowers. Saxifrage muscoides is a dwarf, densely growing kind. The type has yellowish flowers but there are forms with red blossoms.

FINE FOLIAGE
The Magenta section are remarkable for their handsome foliage and large trusses of beautiful flowers. Saxifrage cordifolia has large cordate leaves and rosy red flowers in April. There are several other kinds and they are all useful in the rock garden where their evergreen leaves are of much value in turning during the winter months.

The so-called Porphyron group, of which the best and most useful variety is Saxifrage oppositifolia, contains many beautiful high Alpines but this section is not easy to grow and should be left alone until some little experience is gained.

For the bog garden and damp places is the yellow-flowered Saxifrage Hirculus and the prostrate growing Aizoides, in addition to the giant of the race, saxifrage peltata, with its peltate leaves and large, flat cymes of pink flowers, on stems three to four feet high. The well-known London Pride (Saxifrage umbrosa) belongs to this section.

AUTUMN FLOWERING
For flowering in the Autumn we have the Japanese Saxifrage Fortunei, with large dark green leaves and white flowers, born on stems that reach to a height of a foot or more. It does best in a sheltered, half-shady spot where it is protected from hard frost.

There are plants in the great saxifrage family that may be grown in any position in the garden. For the bog we have the big California Saxifrage peltata, for the moist shady London Pride, the mossy section. In full sun the cushion section should be grown in the moorlands, or at least in a mixture of stone chips, mortar, rubble, sand and a little good loam and leaf mould.

There are several excellent collections of Saxifrages in and around Victoria, and one who is interested in this class of plants would be well advised to visit some of them and thus gain some idea of their great value as decorative plants for the garden.

THE MOSSY SECTION
The Mossy section contains many useful plants suitable not only for the rock garden but for Spring bedding and for an edging for the herbaceous border. The beautiful greenest carpets of Povedale moss (Saxifrage hypnoides), are very at-
